HOME OF CHAMPIONS

The University of Connecticut Division of Athletics is truly the "Home of Champions." The most tangible evidence of this came early last April when on consecutive days, UConn won both the NCAA Division I men's and women's basketball championships.

The phrase "Home of Champions" means much more. For decades, UConn teams have been winning national and conference championships while the Division of Athletics has asserted itself as one of the finest in the country.

More importantly, UConn student-athletes have been champions in the classroom and in the community. Thousands of former Huskies have now graduated and moved out into the world in every vocation imaginable. Current UConn student-athletes dedicate hours of their free time to charitable and community organizations around the state.

Huskies Look To Continue The Trend

Old Faces, New Faces Combine In Quest For Fourth Straight Crown

Three national championships in three seasons, five straight Final Four appearances and 11 consecutive BIG EAST regular-season titles have caused the University of Connecticut to have quite the high bar in terms of expectations. However, like they have shown in the past, the Huskies are more than up to the challenge of defending their crown as the nation's most successful women's basketball program.

UConn heads into 2004-05 much like it did two years ago following the graduation of four of its starters to the WNBA after an undefeated run to the 2002 national crown. This season sees the Huskies facing the dilemma of replacing their leading scorer and possibly the best player in the program's illustrious history, Diana Taurasi.

The difference in the two seasons is that this time around Connecticut returns a large contingent of players with national championship experience and will enjoy an influx of talent from four highly-touted newcomers who will be looked to contribute immediately this season.

Head coach Geno Auriemma will have the benefit of a solid nucleus returning from last year's starting lineup in All-America and national player of the year candidates Jessica Moore, Ann Strother and Barbara Turner.

In all, the Huskies will welcome back eight players from last season's national championship squad.

In addition, UConn will have the added services of four newcomers in freshmen Charde Houston, Mel Thomas, Ketia Swanier and junior Rashidat Sadiq.

Houston and Thomas were both McDonald's All-Americans, while Swanier was recognized as the Georgia AAAA Player of the Year and Sadiq ranked second nationally in scoring among junior college players.

Returning to the fold for the Huskies are a trio of frontcourt players, which includes starters Moore and Turner.

Joining last year's starters are reserve Willnett Crockett and junior college transfer Sadiq.

The key to UConn's effectiveness in the paint could hinge on how Moore bounces back from offseason knee surgery. Expected to return to full speed sometime following the start of practices in October, the senior will be needed in the nightly battle on the boards after averaging a team-best 7.1 rebounds per game last season.

Turner could be the Huskies most dynamic offensive player. She is blessed with a wide array of moves in the low post, she also possesses the ability to step out on the perimeter for the long-range jumper.

Crockett has the potential to be one of the most physical players on the roster and has the size to be a force on the glass. She will look for a more consistent season as a junior after being slowed down by various nagging injuries over her initial two seasons.

Connecticut faces the task of replacing both of its starting guards from last season's national championship squad and a number of players will be competing for those spots during preseason practice.

Mel Thomas is one of three freshmen expected to make an immediate contribution.

Charde Houston ended her prep career as the all-time leading scorer in the state of California.

Redshirt sophomore Nicole Wolff will compete for time at both the point and shooting guard slots a year removed from suffering a season-ending knee injury.

Other players returning who could provide some spark in the backcourt are seniors Ashley Battle, Stacey Marron and Ashley Valley.

Battle is the team's top returning match-up defender and one of the best in the BIG EAST Conference. The athletic senior also brings to the table a slashing offensive game which could provide the Huskies with another reliable scoring option at key moments.

The trio of freshmen are also anticipated to provide some added energy in the competition for the starting guard spots.

With her well-rounded game, Houston, the most prolific scorer in California high school girls' basketball history, could help pick up some of the points lost with the departure of Taurasi.

Thomas should feel right at home at UConn after a senior season in which she guided Mount Notre Dame High School in Cincinnati to an undefeated record and a state title. A heady player with a scorer's presence, Thomas could see time at either of the guard positions.

Swanier should be one of the favorites in the mix to run the point for the Huskies. One of the quickest players on the squad, Swanier could prove to be a nice pace setter for the Connecticut offense.

The one spot on the perimeter that seems secure is the wing slot accompanied for the last two seasons by Strother. Following a season which saw her rank third on the squad in scoring at 11.0 ppg and tied for first in blocks, Strother will look to take on more of a leadership role in the Huskies' offensive attack and could become one of the nation's top threats on the offensive end.

Barbara Turner (left) and Ann Strother (right) are both among the preseason favorites for the Wade Trophy and the Wooden Award, which recognize the national player of the year.

HEAD COACH
20th Season
Overall: 532-103 (.838/19 yrs.)
NCAA Tournament: 53-11 (.828/16 yrs.)

Geno Auriemma has redefined the meaning of success in college women's basketball in his 19 years as head coach of the University of Connecticut.

On the court, his success includes five national championships and complete dominance in the BIG EAST Conference. Off the court, success means a flawless graduation rate and one of the most beloved sports team in the country.

He currently ranks as the winningest active coach in terms of winning percentage at .838 and is the first coach in women's basketball history to guide a team to five consecutive Final Four appearances.

Auriemma is a five-time national coach-of-the-year and has been named the BIG EAST coach-of-the-year six times, including the 2002-03 award.

His 19-year overall record stands at 532-103 (.838), making him first all-time among active Division I coaches in winning percentage and the second fastest coach overall to eclipse the 500-win mark.

The 2003-04 season was a historical one - even for the tradition-rich Connecticut program - as it became only the second program in NCAA history to win three consecutive national titles.

The road to their third straight title was a bumpy one at times for the Huskies, but with Auriemma's leadership the team never wavered from achieving their ultimate goal despite a few detours along the way.

The Huskies tied the NCAA record for consecutive home court wins at 69 straight home games, won the BIG EAST Regular Season Title for the 11th consecutive season and notched their fifth consecutive 30-win season and their 10th in the last 11 years.

Senior standout Diana Taurasi was named Most Outstanding Player of the Final Four for the second consecutive season and was also honored as the Naismith National Player of the Year in addition to being the recipient of the Honda Award and the Nancy Lieberman Award.

Other accolades for the Huskies in 2003-04 included Barbara Turner earning All-BIG EAST Second Team recognition and being named the Cleveland Sports Alliance Athlete of the Year. Ann Strother was a third-team All-BIG EAST choice, while Liz Sherwood was named to the BIG EAST All-Freshman Team.

The 2002-03 season, despite a handful of newcomers, mirrored Auriemma teams of the past. Auriemma's squad continued the program's winning tradition by bringing home UConn's fourth women's basketball national championship, and also broke the NCAA Division I women's record for most consecutive victories with 70-straight. Connecticut broke the previous record of 54 set by Louisiana Tech with its 55th-straight win on January 18, 2003, versus Georgetown in the Hartford Civic Center.

For the fourth time in UConn history, the Huskies finished the regular season undefeated with a perfect 29-0 record. They went on to capture UConn's 10th straight BIG EAST regular season title, 13th overall, and continued their winning ways into the postseason making their seventh Final Four appearance.

After two competitive games in the Final Four, the Huskies earned their fourth NCAA Women's Basketball Championship and became only the third school to do so in back-to-back years. Junior Diana Taurasi was named the 2003 Final Four Most Outstanding Player, while freshman Ann Strother was named to the Final Four All-Tournament team. It was the first time in women's or men's basketball history that a program earned the national championship without a senior on its roster.

Accolades for the 2002-03 season continued to pour in. Auriemma was named the BIG EAST Coach of the Year as well as the United States Basketball Writer's Association (USBWA) Women's Basketball Coach of the Year and Associated Press Coach of the Year. Taurasi garnered Player of the Year honors from the Associated Press, USBWA and Naismith and earned the Wade Trophy and the NCAA Honda Award for the nation's most outstanding women's basketball player. Taurasi earned her second straight Kodak All-American award and was named an Associated Press First Team All-American for her outstanding play and leadership during UConn's 37-1 run through the 2002-03 championship season.

Auriemma's 2001-02 squad recorded the second undefeated season in program history with a 39-0 mark and registered UConn's third national championship and sixth Final Four appearances. Auriemma's teams also won the 1995 and 2000 national titles.

Featuring Kodak All-Americans Sue Bird, Swin Cash and Diana Taurasi, the 2001-02 Huskies posted an NCAA record-tying 39 wins and a 35.4 point average margin of victory, another NCAA record. His team also earned its 12th BIG EAST regular season title and 11th BIG EAST tournament title as the Huskies made their 14th straight NCAA appearance.

The 1999-2000 national championship season included a then-school-record 19-straight weeks ranked No. 1 in the national polls and a final record of 36-1.

UConn captured the program's first national title in 1994-95, when Auriemma led the Huskies to a perfect 35-0 record. UConn was only the second team in Division I women's basketball history to go undefeated on the way to the national championship. The Huskies became the first unbeaten team in NCAA history (all divisions, men or women) to win 35 games in a season.

Under Auriemma's direction, UConn ranked second nationally in Division I victories in the 1990's (Jan. 1, 1990-Dec. 31, 1999) with 290 total wins. The Huskies were also second in the nation in total winning percentage (.860) in the decade as well as establishing a BIG EAST record for conference victories (158).

After inheriting a Husky program that had just one winning season in its 11-year history, Auriemma has posted 17 winning seasons since arriving at UConn in August of 1985. The Huskies now also hold every BIG EAST single game and single season home court attendance record.

Since 1988-89, the first season the Huskies earned a BIG EAST regular season championship, UConn ranks No. 1 among all BIG EAST teams in league regular season wins (233-22, a .908 winning percentage). Coupled with UConn's 40-4 record in BIG EAST Tournament action since 1989, the Huskies have posted an impressive overall mark of 273-26 (.911) against BIG EAST competition in the past 15 years.

The development of national caliber student-athletes has been Auriemma's forte during his UConn coaching tenure. Every recruited freshman that has played for Auriemma at Connecticut and completed her eligibility at UConn has obtained her undergraduate degree.

Impressively, since the 1991-92 season, 26 of UConn's starters - 16 different players - have been on the Dean's List.

Among these 16 players are four of the most highly acclaimed women's basketball players ever - Rebecca Lobo, Jennifer Rizzotti, Kara Wolters and Sue Bird. All four of these student-athletes earned Associated Press National Player of the Year honors and won the Wade Trophy and Honda Broderick Awards. Most recently, Diana Taurasi joined the elite four by being named a consensus National Player of the Year in 2002-03.

Auriemma has coached 10 First Team Kodak All-Americans, with the most recent selections of Bird, Cash and Taurasi. This includes 11 consecutive seasons (1993-2004) where at least one UConn player earned Kodak All-America honors - a total of 18 honors, with Taurasi earning her third honor in 2004.

UConn's home court record also stands as one of the most impressive in the nation. In Auriemma's tenure, UConn is 282-28 at home against collegiate opponents, including 14-1 in 2003-04, for a sparkling .910 winning percentage.

By building such a dynamic program, Huskymania fan support and enthusiasm is at an all-time high. UConn was second nationally in total home attendance for all Division I women's programs in 2003-04, attracting 201,521 fans for 15 home dates in Harry A. Gampel Pavilion and the Hartford Civic Center. The Huskies have boasted an advance sellout of every game in Gampel Pavilion and the Hartford Civic Center dating back to November 1999.

Prior to taking the UConn position, Auriemma served as the primary assistant women's coach at the University of Virginia under head coach Debbie Ryan from 1981-85. He helped lead the Cavaliers to the Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 1984.

Before his Virginia position, Auriemma was assistant women's basketball coach at St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia with then-head coach Jim Foster (now Ohio State women's basketball head coach). He also coached boys' basketball at his high school alma mater, Bishop Kenrick High School in Norristown, Pa., from 1979-81.

Auriemma has found success even beyond the college coaching ranks due to his involvement with USA Basketball. In the summer of 2000, Auriemma represented the United States at the Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia, as an assistant coach of the gold medal winning Olympic Team.

That same summer, Auriemma led the 2000 USA Women's Basketball Junior World Championship team to a gold medal in the COPABA Junior World Cup Qualifying Tournament in Argentina. Auriemma and the squad advanced to the 2001 FIBA Junior World Championship for women held in the Czech Republic in July of 2001, and returned with the bronze. In April of 1996, he was co-head coach of the National Senior All-Stars when the All-Stars met the United States National Team.

During the summer of 1996, he served as coach of the USA Basketball Select Team in Colorado Springs, Colo. In January of 1995, Auriemma was named an assistant coach of the USA World University Games Women's Basketball Team, which played in Fukuoka, Japan, in the summer of 1995; due to personal conflicts, however, he had to relinquish that position. He also served as head coach of the West Team at the 1993 U.S. Olympic Festival in San Antonio, Texas.

In the summer of 2002, Auriemma was selected as a member of the inaugural induction class to the New England Basketball Hall of Fame.

In addition to his coaching duties, Auriemma serves on several national basketball committees. He was a four-year member of the Kodak All-America Selection Committee and was named chair of that committee in January of 1992. He has also been a voting member of the USA TODAY/WBCA Top 25 Poll.

An accomplished speaker, Auriemma also is involved in numerous regional and state charitable and educational efforts. For the last seven years, Auriemma has been the chair of Why-Me of New England, a fund-raising organization for breast cancer research, and also has served as the State of Connecticut honorary chair for the American Heart Association.

In the fall of 1993, Auriemma was elected into the National Mortar Board academic honor society for his outstanding contributions to UConn academics and for community service.

Auriemma currently serves as co-chair of the Connecticut Arthritis Foundation. In May of 1994, Auriemma was awarded the prestigious UConn Club Outstanding Contribution Award for his service and commitment to Husky athletics.

In tribute to the Huskies' first NCAA National Championship, and for his commitment to intercollegiate athletes and service in the community, Auriemma received two special awards in 1995.

He was one of four recipients of the 1995 Center for the Study of Sport in Society "National Student-Athlete Day Giant Steps Award", presented in Boston. He was also honored with "Geno Auriemma Day" at the National Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass., on August 9, 1995.

Auriemma has given back to the university as well. In November 1998, he and his wife Kathy gave a $125,000 gift to the University of Connecticut Library.

Auriemma is a 1981 graduate of West Chester with a B.A. in political science. He resides in Manchester, Conn., with Kathy and their three children: Jenna (20), Alyssa (18) and Michael (16).

Geno Auriemma enters 2004-05 with the best winning percentage of any active coach in NCAA Division I women's basketball.

Kerry Bascom-Poliquin '90

"Coach Auriemma has the unique ability to tap into your full potential and make you the best player you can be. His hard work and complete dedication to the players and the program makes UConn an unbelievable experience."

Rebecca Lobo '95

"I have had the privilege of being coached by some of the biggest names in women's basketball; however, no coach has made a bigger impact on my life, both on and off the court, than Coach Auriemma. He challenges each student-athlete to gain something from their basketball experience and apply it to life after college. He got the most out of me as a player and taught me important lessons that carry into my daily routine. A young woman is very fortunate to have the chance to join the Connecticut family."

Wendy Davis '92

"Coach Auriemma is one of the reasons that I am a college coach today. He has taught me how to build relationships with student-athletes, which is a big part of being a successful coach. I have kept close ties with UConn and know that I can still call the coaching staff any day, at any time, and they will always be there for me."

Kathy (Ferrier) Gibson '93

"My four years at the University of Connecticut were filled with great friendships and memorable experiences. Coach Auriemma provided me with opportunities, discipline and character that has extended far beyond the basketball court. My thanks to him for giving me the chance to play for UConn, the best program in the country."

Debbie (Baer) Fiske '92

"Coach Auriemma and his staff create a secure, safe and comfortable playing atmosphere. They run a top-ranked program with a winning attitude which carries beyond UConn. If I had a daughter, I would love for her to play for someone like Coach Auriemma someday."

Peggy (Walsh) Myers '86

"I had the great privilege of playing for coach during his first year of coaching at UConn, and it was an incredible experience. I now have the privilege to work for him and have watched him develop into one of the top coaches in the nation. Through it all he has been my coach, my boss, but most of all my friend."

CHRIS DAILEY

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH
20th Season

Associate head coach Chris Dailey is in her 20th season with the Connecticut basketball program. Dailey has been instrumental in teaming with head coach Geno Auriemma to build UConn into a national power. She is the coordinator of Connecticut's highly successful recruiting efforts.

Under her direction, Connecticut's recruiting base spans the nation and the globe. Arriving at Connecticut in the summer of 1985 along with Auriemma, Dailey served as primary assistant coach from 1985-88. In September of 1988, she was promoted to associate head coach.

In Auriemma's absence during the entire 1997 BIG EAST Conference Tournament from March 1-4 (due to the death of his father, Donato Auriemma), Dailey served as head coach, leading Connecticut to its fourth consecutive BIG EAST Tournament Championship. This marked the second time that a Dailey-directed UConn team earned the BIG EAST Tournament title. UConn's 1989 team won its first league tourney crown under her direction (while Auriemma served a suspension for a scheduling error).

Dailey is a 1982 graduate of Rutgers with a bachelor's degree in health and physical education. She received her master's degree from Connecticut in educational administration. A native of New Brunswick, N.J., Dailey is no stranger to collegiate basketball success. She was a four-year forward (from 1978-82) for the nationally-ranked Rutgers Scarlet Knights. Dailey served as a team captain as a junior and senior, and, as a senior in 1981-82, she helped lead her Rutgers squad to the AIAW Division I National Championship, as the Scarlet Knights defeated Texas 83-77. During her four years at Rutgers, the team compiled a record of 108-23 (.824).

Prior to Connecticut, Dailey served as the Cornell assistant basketball coach (1982-83) before returning to her alma mater as top assistant under head coach Theresa Grentz from 1983-85.

In 1992, Chris was inducted into the Rutgers University Lady Knight Hall of Fame as a member of the 1982 National Championship Team. During the 1995-96 academic year, she was one of eight alumnae of Rutgers' Douglass College featured in the college's national fundraising campaign. In the winter of 2002, Dailey was inducted into the prestigious New Jersey Sports Writers Association Hall of Fame alongside the likes of Bobby Valentine, Jorge Posada, Andre Tippitt and Carl Banks. She also was honored with the NJSWA "Distinguished Service to Basketball" award. Most recently in June of 2002, Dailey received the Clare Award from the Saint Franciscan Life Center which is given to a woman who exemplifies leadership, commitment to athletics and service to the community.

In addition to her coaching duties, Dailey is involved in a number of regional charitable efforts as an honorary chair and as a noted speaker. In the summer of 2000, Dailey was a recipient of the 2000 Girl Scouts Women of Merit Award, given to women who best exemplify the qualities of a girl scout. She served four years as honorary chair of the Connecticut chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Associations' annual "Walk-a-thon". In October 1997, she was named the Connecticut Trails Counsel 1997 Woman of Distinction by the Girl Scouts Association.

The last several years, she has also been involved as the honorary chair to the following organizations: Food Allergy Network, March of Dimes-Women in Sports Celebration, Camp Courant and the Manchester Area Conference of Churches.

Dailey is a 1977 graduate of St. Peter's High School, New Brunswick, N.J., where she earned All-State basketball honors and was inducted into the school's Hall of Fame. She resides in Ellington, Conn.

Q: Other than the winning tradition the UConn women's basketball program enjoys, what are some of the other selling points you make potential players aware of during the recruiting process?

A: "I think the biggest selling point is the people. I am a firm believer that the people make the program. I also feel like we have a tremendous balance between academics and athletics. We have created an environment where our players can do really well both academically and compete at the highest level athletically for national championships on the basketball court. I think we have proven that doing well in both areas are not mutually exclusive and that you can be very successful in the classroom and be the best at what you do on the court. I think that balance is what has allowed our players to be successful as student-athletes at UConn and beyond."

Q: You have had the opportunity over your career to see the progression of women's college basketball over the years, discuss some of the changes you have seen in the game over that time.

A: "Obviously the athletic ability of the players has improved dramatically. Now it's okay to be an athlete, which is a great thing for women because the opportunities are so much greater then when I was in college. When I was in school it was just starting to be accepted that women can be great athletes, but we were still viewed as jocks. We wouldn't even wear sweats around because we didn't want anyone to know we played basketball. We wanted to have a separate identity. It wasn't cool then to be an athlete but over the last 20 years more girls are playing, more girls have the opportunity to go to college and it's okay to be an athlete when you are on the court or on the field and be a women when you are off it. The growth that I have seen in the acceptance of the game, the attendance, the opportunities for women both during and after college are just tremendous. We just didn't have that back then. So many women who were very talented 10 years ago just didn't have the same opportunities that today's players have. The exciting thing is that today's players are providing another foundation for future women-athletes and the sky is the limit in what they will be able to do. That is very exciting."

Q: What are the first impressions of recruits when they step on the campus for the first time?

A: "They like the size and feel like it's a quintessential college campus in terms of the environment. It's big enough to offer 100 majors but its small enough so you don't feel like just a number. I really feel like it is the best of both worlds. It's definitely a college environment and I know our players enjoy that."

Q: What do you look for in a student-athlete that makes you feel like they would be a good fit for the Connecticut women's basketball program?

A: "Due to the way recruiting is set up, the first thing you see is the players skill level on the basketball court so you begin by watching their athletic ability and basketball skills. We also pay close attention to the way they interact with their teammates and coaches as well as how they handle adversity and success during games. Then you get to talking to their teammates, coaches, teachers and you find out a lot about the student-athlete as a person. We use all this to try to get a total picture to determine if they are a good fit for our program."

Q: What are some of you favorite moments during your first 19 years at the University of Connecticut?

A: "I think the first time you do anything it always stands out. The first time we beat Villanova at the Field House was an outstanding moment for our program. The first time we won the BIG EAST Tournament, our first NCAA Tournament berth and obviously winning our first national championship was special. I think those firsts are moments that stand out from a basketball standpoint. After you do it the first time the feeling is different and I think that is what makes the first time you do something so special."

The team has earned five consecutive NCAA Final Four trips and captured four national titles. In conference action, the team has won the BIG EAST regular season title in each of her seven seasons while also claiming five tournament titles.

Elliott was also only the second player in UConn history to surpass the 1,000 point and 1,000 rebound milestones. She is among the UConn career leaders for games played with 135, never missing a single game in her four collegiate years. In her four years as a player, UConn posted an overall record of 117-18.

After graduating from Connecticut with a degree in business administration, Elliott went on to earn her graduate degree in sports management at UConn in 1997.

In her senior year, she was honored by the UConn Club as its "Outstanding Senior Athlete". She was also named the Most Outstanding Player at the Hartford Courant Connecticut Classic and was a member of the 1995 NCAA Mideast Regional All-Tournament Team.

Elliott, a native of Washington, D.C., was named to the Washington Post All-Metro Team as well as being named Scholar-Athlete at H.D. Woodson High School.

THREE-PEAT!

Huskies Win Third-Straight National Crown in 2004

ANOTHER YEAR, ANOTHER CROWN: The Huskies became the second team in NCAA Division I women's basketball history to win three consecutive national titles - joining Tennessee which won in 1996, 1997, 1998.

Ironically, Connecticut defeated the Lady Vols to tie their mark and boast a perfect 4-0 mark vs. Tennessee in national championship games.

HOME OF CHAMPIONS: With its win over Tennessee in the 2004 NCAA Championship Game, Connecticut became the first school in history to win both the NCAA Division I men's and women's basketball national championships in the same season.

FINAL FOUR FIVE IN A ROW: The Huskies became the first program in NCAA Division I women's basketball history to advance to five straight Final Fours following their 66-49 win over Penn State in the East Regional Final in Hartford.

Connecticut has been to eight Final Fours in the program's history - third most all time.

MOST FINAL FOUR APPEARANCES

15 Tennessee
9 Louisiana Tech
8 Connecticut
5 Georgia
5 Stanford
3 Auburn
3 Virginia
3 Western Kentucky

HUSKIES IN THE FINAL FOUR: Following the 2004 Final Four, UConn improved its overall mark at the marquee event to 10-3. The Huskies own an all-time mark of 5-3 in the national semifinals and are a perfect 5-0 in national championship games.

18 AND COUNTING: Following its 2004 NCAA Championship win over Tennessee, the Huskies extended their winning streak in the NCAA Tournament to 18 consecutive games. Connecticut's last loss in NCAA play came against Notre Dame in the 2001 National Semifinals in St. Louis.

UConn has won 28 of its last 29 NCAA Tournament games overall.

NEW ORLEANS REVISITED: Last season marked the second time that Connecticut played in a Final Four in New Orleans. The Huskies also advanced to the final group during the 1991 season where they were defeated by Virginia (61-55) in the national semifinals.

The 1991 Final Four in New Orleans marked the Huskies first trip to the Final Four in the program's history.

AN ELITE CLUB: The University of Connecticut joined an elite club when the women's basketball team clinched a Final Four berth with a win over Penn State in the 2004 NCAA East Regional.

With the men's team already having earned a berth in the Men's Final Four in San Antonio, the women helped Connecticut become only the fifth school in history to have both its men's and women's basketball programs make their respective Final Fours in the same season.

No school had ever won the national championship in both men's and women's basketball in the same season prior to both versions of the Huskies pulling off the feat in 2004.

Below is a list of the school's that have pulled off the double Final Four trick:

2004 .....Connecticut*
2003 .....Texas
2002 .....Oklahoma
1999 .....Duke
1983 .....Georgia

 - won both men's and women's national championships

SINCE 1999-2000: Connecticut is 175-9 overall since the 1999-2000 season. During that span, the Huskies have won four national championships.

THE LAST 100: Over their last 100 games, the Huskies have posted a mark of 95-5.*

 - first game of last 100 was an 84-70 win at Old Dominion on Dec. 29, 2001.

30 WINS ONCE AGAIN: The Huskies 31-4 mark in 2003-04 assured them of their fifth consecutive 30-win season and the 10th in the program's history.

Dating back to 1993-94, the only season that UConn has not tallied 30 wins came in 1998-99 when it finished with an overall mark of 29-5.

TAURASI NAMED FINAL FOUR MVP FOR SECOND STRAIGHT SEASON: Former UConn standout Diana Taurasi was named as the 2004 Final Four Most Outstanding Player after averaging 17.5 ppg in the Huskies' wins over Minnesota and Tennessee. It marked the second consecutive season that the guard has been recognized with the honor.

Joining Taurasi on the Final Four All-Tournament Team were teammates Ann Strother and Jessica Moore.

FAREWELL TO SENIORS: The 2004 regular-season finale marked UConn's annual "Senior Night" in which the Huskies and their faithful payed tribute to last year's senior class of Maria Conlon, Diana Taurasi and Morgan Valley.

The trio became the first class in Connecticut women's basketball history to reach the Final Four in four consecutive seasons.

In addition, redshirt juniors Jessica Moore and Ashley Battle were also part of their fourth-consecutive Final Four squad - as each was a member of the recruiting class which included Taurasi, Conlon and M. Valley. Battle was forced to sit out a majority of the 2000-01 season with an elbow injury, while Moore was redshirted.

Overall, UConn has advanced to the Final Four in each of the past five seasons. The last time the Huskies failed to reach the Final Four was during the 1998-99 season, when they fell to Iowa State in the "Sweet Sixteen" in the 1999 NCAA Tournament.

The 2004 senior class compiled a record of 139-8 over their four years in Storrs.

DEFENDING THEIR TURF: The Huskies boast a record of 196-5 at home since the 1993-94 season.

UConn was 14-1 at home in 2003-04 with its lone loss coming against then No. 4/4 Duke on Jan. 3.

HUSKIES AS THE UNDERDOG?!?!?: The 2004 NCAA East Regional Final against No. 1 seed Penn State marked the first time that Connecticut (No. 2 seed) entered an NCAA Tournament game as the lower-seeded team since the 1992 season - a span of 53 NCAA Tournament games.

The last time the Huskies played an NCAA Tournament game in which they weren't the higher seed came during the 1992 tourney (March 21, 1992) when they faced No. 3 seed Vanderbilt in the second round and UConn was a No. 6 seed - Connecticut dropped that decision 75-47.

CLASS OF 2004 DOMINANT AT HOME: The 2004 NCAA East Regional Semifinal marked the final game played in the State of Connecticut for Husky seniors Diana Taurasi, Maria Conlon and Morgan Valley.

The trio compiled a career record of 64-2 in games played at the Hartford Civic Center or Gampel Pavilion during their time with the UConn program.

TAURASI CLAIMS NAISMITH NATIONAL PLAYER OF THE YEAR: For the second consecutive season, UConn's Diana Taurasi claimed the Naismith Trophy which is award to the nation's top collegiate women's basketball player.

Taurasi becomes the fifth player to win the award in multiple seasons, joining a list that includes USC's three-time winner Cheryl Miller (84, 85, 86), Texas' Clarissa Davis (87, 89), Virginia's Dawn Staley (91, 92) and Tennessee's Chamique Holdsclaw (98, 99).

TAURASI NAMED BIG EAST PLAYER OF THE YEAR - AGAIN: UConn senior Diana Taurasi was named the BIG EAST Player of the Year for the second consecutive season. Her selection marks the 13th time a UConn player has been named as the conference player of the year.

A Husky has been named BIG EAST Player of the Year for each of the last three seasons.

Tennessee led UConn 63-0 in weeks ranked No. 1 prior to the Jan. 16, 1995 game.

STROTHER DRAINS 100TH THREE: Sophomore Ann Strother is quickly making her way towards UConn's top-10 career 3-point leaders as she nailed the 100th long-range shot of her career in her 61st game against Pittsburgh on Feb. 17.

Strother (119 career 3's) is currently 15 3-pointers shy of tying Nykesha Sales (134) for 10th place on the program's all-time 3-point list.

DECADE OF DOMINANCE: Since 1994-95, Connecticut has won five national championships and firmly established itself as the most successful and recognizable NCAA Division I women's basketball program.

In that 10-year span, the Huskies have compiled an outstanding overall mark of 340-22 (.939).

HUSKIES TIE NCAA RECORD FOR CONSECUTIVE HOME VICTORIES: With its 87-53 win over North Carolina State on Dec. 29, Connecticut tied the NCAA Division I women's basketball record for consecutive home victories.

The Huskies streak ended in dramatic fashion a week later as they fell to Duke 68-67 on a 3-pointer at the buzzer.

#1/#1 Connecticut - 69

STORRS, Conn. (Dec. 2, 2003) – Sophomore forward Barbara Turner scored all 12 of her points in the first 6:17 of the second half as top-ranked Connecticut pulled away from Siena to earn a 69-45 victory before the 100th consecutive sellout (and 77th straight at Gampel Pavilion) Tuesday evening.

The win was the Huskies fourth in a row this season without a loss, while the Saints drop to 2-3. It was UConn's 77th consecutive regular season victory.

UConn led just 29-23 after a sluggish opening twenty minutes, but quickly took control of the game with a 21-3 run to open the second half as Turner both started and finished the run with made baskets. Siena was able to get no closer than 22 points the rest of the way. UConn had difficulty at the outset of the contest, struggling from the field and committing eight first half turnovers, but harassed the Saints into 14 miscues in the opening half. The 23 points was the lowest scoring first half for UConn since the BIG EAST Tournament final against Villanova on March 11, 2003, when they scored 17 against the Wildcats.

Sophomore forward Ann Strother led the Huskies with game-high totals of 14 points, seven rebounds and five assists. Senior All-America Diana Taurasi had 13 points and five assists. It was the 18th straight game that Taurasi has scored in double figures.

The victory marked the 67th straight win at home, and 46th straight in the friendly confines of Gampel Pavilion. UConn finished shooting 49% (28 of 57) from the field and held the Saints to just 31% (17 of 55) shooting. The Huskies were their usual unselfish selves, dishing out 21 helpers on 28 made field goals.

HARTFORD, Conn. (Dec. 18, 2003) - Senior All-America Diana Taurasi scored 22 points to lead three teammates in double figures as top-ranked Connecticut registered the 600th win in program history, an 81-55 decision over pesky Arizona State, Thursday evening at the Hartford Civic Center.

The win, UConn's 74th consecutive regular season success, improves their record to 7-0. The Sun Devils slip to 5-3.

UConn led 50-45 with 12:32 to play before the Huskies went on a decisive 16-0 run to clinch the victory. Taurasi scored six points, while sophomore forward Ann Strother scored five and junior forward Ashley Battle added four. Arizona State could get no closer than 17 points the rest of the way.

Taurasi scored 15 of her game-high 22 points after intermission. Also in double figures for the Huskies were junior center Jessica Moore, who scored 15 points, Strother who had 12 and Battle, who came off the bench to score 10. Moore and Battle shared game-high rebounding honors with seven apiece. Taurasi also dished out a game-best seven assists.

The victory enabled the Huskies to set an NCAA standard by taking only 103 games to go from 500 victories to 600. The win was also the 68th consecutive at home, one shy of Tennessee's mark of 69 straight from 1991 through 1996.

The Huskies shot well during the contest, connecting on 59% (31 of 53) of their shots from the field, while holding ASU to just 33% shooting (19 of 57). The Huskies took excellent care of the basketball after intermission, committing just four turnovers.

UConn was able to establish its presence in the paint, outscoring their opponent 44-12 inside the lane. Arizona State substituted freely throughout the contest (50 times) but committed 18 turnovers that the Huskies turned into 22 points.

#1/#1 Connecticut - 67

HARTFORD, Conn. (Jan. 3, 2004) – Jessica Foley hit a three pointer as time expired to cap off a furious rally as fourth-ranked Duke defeated top-ranked Connecticut, 68-67, Saturday afternoon, preventing the Huskies from breaking the NCAA all-time record for consecutive victories at home, before a sellout crowd of 16,294 at the Hartford Civic Center.

UConn appeared to have the game in hand, leading 64-50 with 3:53 to play, but Duke applied a full-court press defense that forced seven turnovers that led to 10 Blue Devil points. Duke tied the game on a lay-up by Alana Beard with 40 seconds to play. UConn turned the ball over on its next possession, but forced a missed jump shot by Monique Curry. After a timeout, Diana Taurasi drove the lane from the right side and hit a short jumper to give the Huskies a 67-65 lead with less than five seconds to play. Duke inbounded the ball and Lindsey Hunter found Foley open on the right side and she drained the three-pointer for the win.

The defeat stopped a number of winning streaks for UConn. The most significant of which was the 69 consecutive wins at home that tied them with Tennessee for the all-time NCAA record. It was the first defeat at the Hartford Civic Center since losing to St. John's on February 22, 1986, a span of 36 games. The Blue Devils join Tennessee and Georgia as the only teams to defeat the Huskies at home since March 17, 1993. It was also the first loss ever at the Hartford Civic Center to a non-conference opponent.

UConn made their first five shots of the game on their way to a 14-2 lead just 5:42 into the game. Taurasi had an off-game offensively (16 points of five of 16 shooting), and senior center Jessica Moore picked up the slack, scoring 10 points before intermission on four of four shooting as the Huskies enjoyed a 35-18 halftime lead. The lead was still 17, at 59-42, with 7:21 to play before Beard led a wild Blue Devil rally to the victory. She scored 11 of her game-high 21 points in the Blue Devils 26-8 run to conclude the game.

Taurasi led four teammates in double figures with her 16 points. Also in double digits for UConn were Barbara Turner, who scored 15, Moore who added 14, and Ann Strother, who chipped in with 12. Battle led the Huskies with nine rebounds, and Turner and Moore each had eight.

Second chance points and turnovers were a tough spot for the Huskies all game long. The Blue Devils converted 16 offensive rebounds into 17 second-chance points. The Huskies committed 19 turnovers, which led to 21 Duke points.

STORRS, Conn. (Jan. 10, 2004) – Senior guard Diana Taurasi scored 15 of her game-high 21 points after halftime to pace fourth-ranked Connecticut to a 69-51 come-from-behind victory over Georgetown in the BIG EAST home opener.

The win improves the UConn record to 11-1, 2-0 in the conference. The Hoyas slip to 7-6, 1-2 in league play. It was the 17th consecutive victory over Georgetown for the Huskies.

The Huskies scored the game's first five points after making their first two shots, but then missed their next 12 attempts over nine and a half minutes. UConn trailed 10-7 before Maria Conlon hit a lay-up to cut the lead to one. UConn briefly retook the at 17-15 on a three-pointer by Conlon, but Georgetown answered with a three of their own by Mary Lisicky and held on for a 29-26 lead at intermission. The three-point deficit marked the first time since January 26, 2000 against Boston College that the Huskies trailed at the half to a league foe. The 26 points marked a season low in the first half this season for UConn.

The Huskies seized control of the contest early in the second half, outscoring the Hoyas 23-4 over the first 10:18. Taurasi scored eight points in the key spurt, including back-to-back three-pointers, while Ann Strother added six points. Strother filled up the stat sheet, despite making just two of nine shots from the field. She had eight points, a career-high eight assists, and notched a season-high eight rebounds.

Taurasi scored in double-figures for the 26th straight contest in leading three Huskies with at least 10 points. Conlon tied her season-high with 12 points, while freshman center Liz Sherwood set her career-high with 11 points. The Huskies blocked 10 shots, as Wilnett Crockett blocked four shots, and Strother and Taurasi each blocked three.

The Huskies finished the contest shooting 38% (23 of 61), but did shoot 47% (15 of 32) in the second half. Their 28% (8 of 29) first half shooting was their worst opening twenty minutes of the campaign. Taurasi connected on just seven of her 23 attempts, a career-high for tries, and tied her career-high with 12 three-point shots.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (Jan. 13, 2004) – Notre Dame's Jacqueline Batteast scored 23-points to give the Fighting Irish a 66-51 victory over the fourth ranked University of Connecticut women's basketball team at the Joyce Center on Tuesday night in South Bend, Ind.

Batteast had five of her game-high points in Notre Dame's 11-0 run to end the game. The Huskies came as close as 33-31 when senior All-American Diana Taurasi hit a jumper with 4:50 remaining in regulation and the last points of the game for the Huskies, who missed six straight shots and committed two turnovers. Le'Tania Severe then capped the Irish's 11-0 run followed by Batteast's back-to-back baskets pushing Notre Dame ahead 59-51.

The Huskies were held to a season-low 30.9 percent shooting from the field and Taurasi ended the game also with a season-low 11 points. She was 4-for-15 from the field and was two-for-nine from three-point range. Junior Jessica Moore and sophomore Barbara Turner led UConn with 13 points apiece. Coming in off the bench, junior Ashley Battle grabbed seven rebounds for the Huskies.

For the Irish, Courtney LaVere scored 14 points, and Severe added 12 points. The Irish shot 59.5 percent, the highest of an UConn opponent this season. Despite the win, Notre Dame was only 56 percent from the free throw line shooting 14-for-25.

UConn held a 10-9 lead in the first half, but lost it when Batteast hit a basket from inside at the 14:10 mark giving the Irish the lead for the remainder of the game. Notre Dame's largest lead of the contest was at the midpoint of the first half, a 30-16 Irish advantage. The Huskies tried to counter near the half's end going on a 10-3 run cutting the deficit to 33-26 at the intermission.

UConn closed in on the Irish in the second half using an 8-0 run capped off by freshman Liz Sherwood, but the Irish responded using a 7-0 run of their own to end the game.

#22/20 Boston College - 61
#4/#4 Connecticut - 69

HARTFORD, Conn. (Jan. 17, 2004) – A perfect 11-for-11 performance by Barbara Turner at the free throw line, helped the No. 4 Connecticut women's basketball team fend off a hard-charging No. 22 Boston College squad, 69-61 on Saturday afternoon at the Hartford Civic Center.

After the teams swapped baskets to open play, Maria Conlan drained a three point shot and stole the ball at the other end of the court on BC's possession to help kick start an 11-2 Husky run. UConn would extend its lead to nine points at 19-10 when Turner put home Diana Taurasi's entry pass. The Huskies could have led by more after forcing several BC turnovers, but poor shooting at the UConn offensive end kept the Eagles in the contest. UConn would force a total of 11 first half turnovers but hit just 37 percent of its shots from the floor (10-for-27).

BC hit a trio of three point shots, all from the corner of the arc, to roar back and tie the score at 21-21. Ashley Battle answered back though for UConn with a wild hook shot in the lane the fell for a deuce at 3-03. Battle tallied four more points before the break to guide UConn to a 27-24 half-time advantage.

The two teams aggressively battled for control of the game as the second half opened with the Eagles firing the first strike as Jessalyn Deveny drained a three from the corner after using the entire 30-second shot clock on the half's opening possession. With the score tied at 29, UConn went on an 8-0 run, five of the points from Ann Strother, but the Eagles whittled away at the Husky margin and took the lead at 40-39 when Kathrin Ress scored off of an inbounds pass at 14:46.

The sides battled back and forth before UConn took a lead it would not relinquish at the 11:43 mark when Diana Taurasi hit a long three pointer.

Turner's 11 free throws are the third-highest total for any Husky who has had a perfect outing at the charity stripe, a sum which helped her to a season-high tying 19 points overall. Strother, Moore and Taurasi all finished the game with 12 points for UConn.

HARTFORD, Conn. (Jan. 19, 2004) – Senior All-America Diana Taurasi scored 27 points on the strength of a career-high seven three-pointers as fourth-ranked Connecticut drilled Rutgers, 72-47, Monday afternoon before the 26th consecutive sellout at the Hartford Civic Center.

With her 27 points, Taurasi now has scored 1,876 points in her illustrious UConn career, good for fifth place on the all-time scoring list, passing Svetlana Abrosimova during the contest. She took control of the contest early, scoring 13 of the Huskies' first 17 points in the game's first 9:31. By that time, UConn led 17-5 on their way to a 40-17 halftime advantage. The 17 points was the fewest allowed by the Huskies in the first half this season. The Huskies shot 54% in the first half, and made five three-pointers, four by Taurasi. She finished the contest making 10 of her 15 field goal attempts, and was successful on seven of her nine three-point tries. Taurasi did not only contribute with her pinpoint shooting, she dished out a game-high three assists, which moves her into a third place tie on the all-time UConn list with Pam Webber at 546.

Sophomore forward Willnett Crockett had her most productive game of the season, scoring eight points on four of four shooting and grabbing a game-high eight rebounds. Sophomore forward Ann Strother scored ten points for the Huskies.

The Huskies shot the ball well throughout the contest, connecting on 54% (27 of 50) of their field goal attempts, and made of 10 of 17 trifecetas. They were able to score in transition during the game, scoring 14 fast break points.

The win was UConn's 100th straight against a BIG EAST opponent on its home court, and the 154th straight versus unranked opponents at home for the Huskies.

Rutgers was led by Cappie Pondexter, who scored 13 points, but was held to just six of 24 shooting. The Scarlet Knights shot just 33% (20 of 61) for the game and committed 17 turnovers.

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (Jan. 24, 2004) - Barbara Turner scored a game-high 21 points while an 11-for-13 free throw performance in the final six minutes and 22 seconds by the Huskies helped the No. 5/4 Connecticut women's basketball team slip past upset-minded Seton Hall, 71-63, on Saturday afternoon at sold-out Walsh Gymnasium.

The win ups the Huskies' seasonal record to 14-2 overall and 5-1 in BIG EAST play while Seton Hall falls to 10-7 overall and 2-4 in conference games.

The win is UConn's 20th consecutive over the Pirates. With the victory, the Huskies avoided losing consecutive road games for the first time in a decade, dating back to successive losses at Miami and Pittsburgh in 1993.

The UConn defense was a large factor in today's win as the Huskies forced a season high 25 turnovers.

Momentum was on the Pirates' side when Monique Blake drained a jump shot over Morgan Valley to cut the UConn margin to four points at 60-56 with 5:15 to play. The lead would get down to a single point inside of the three minute mark but Diana Taurasi, playing with four fouls, sank a pair of free throws to put UConn up 62-59 with 2:08 remaining in the game. A key sequence followed when Battle drew a charge by Keri Shutz with 1:45 to play. Turner hit her first foul shot at the other end, but Battle would grab an offensive rebound after Turner missed the second. Turner put back a missed Taurasi jumper from the lane, was fouled by Blake, and made her free throw for the three-point play. The sequence put UConn up 66-59 with 1:04 left in the contest, making it a nearly-insurmountable three-possession UConn lead. The Pirates would draw no closer than four, as a pair of free throws inside of :20 seconds by both Ann Strother and Battle secured UConn's win.

In addition to Turner's 21 points, Maria Conlon chipped in 12 for UConn. With a 3-for-3 showing from three point range, Conlon moved into sole possession of eighth place on the career three point chart for the Huskies, passing Nykesha Sales.

#23/22 Virginia Tech - 50

BLACKSBURG, Va. (Jan. 27, 2004) -- Four Huskies scored in double-figures, including a 15-point effort by sophomore Barbara Turner, to pace the No. 4/3 Connecticut women's basketball team past No. 23/22 Virginia Tech, 68-50, in front of an energetic crowd of 7,211 at Cassell Coliseum in Blacksburg, Va. The attendance was the largest at Cassell Coliseum this season and the seventh-largest ever to see a women's basketball game at the facility.

UConn pounced on the Hokies early in this contest, jumping out to a 16-2 lead at the 13:50 mark thanks to a 14-0 run sparked by a Taurasi three-pointer and capped off by a Barbara Turner lay up. In fact, UConn was not the only thing that was lights-out in the early goings, Cassel Coliseum lost power with 13:34 remaining in the first half, causing a 23 minute delay. Play resumed at 7:38 p.m. with the Huskies holding an 11-to-2 lead.

UConn took its largest lead of the half at the 9:10 mark thanks to an Ashley Battle runner that gave the Huskies a 26-8 edge. Tech responded with a 7-0 run of its own over the next 1:40 to shrink the deficit to eleven points. However, UConn answered with a 5-0 mini-run to deflate the Hokies and headed into the locker room holding a 39-18 advantage.

Virginia Tech came out hungrier to start the second half, scoring the half's first five points and pulling to within eleven, 41-30, with 13:00 left in the game. However, UConn mounted a 10-2 run highlighted by three consecutive three balls, two from Ann Strother and one by Conlon, to take a 51-32 lead with 9:20 remaining.

Jessica Moore hit a jump hook that extended the UConn lead to 21 points at 59-38, with 5:10 to go and the Huskies cruised the rest of the way.

Moore was a force underneath, snaring a game-high 12 rebounds including 10 in the first half in a season-high 36 minutes.

The Huskies were able to out-run and out-muscle the Hokies, as UConn held a 12-4 edge in fast break points and a 34-20 advantage in points in the point. The Husky defense was stingy as well, allowing Tech to shoot at just a 33% clip from the field.

#4/#3 Connecticut - 82

STORRS, Conn. (Jan. 31, 2004) -- Sophomore Ann Strother scored a career-high 27 points and collected 10 rebounds to lead the University of Connecticut women's basketball team to an 82-49 win over St. John's in BIG EAST action on Saturday afternoon in front of the usual sellout crowd of 10,167 at Gampel Pavilion in Storrs.

With seven lead changes in the first half, Connecticut finally pushed ahead of the Red Storm for good with 5:30 left in the first half. Freshman Liz Sherwood made two consecutive lay-ups to pull UConn ahead 31-30. Shemika Stevens brought the Red Storm as close as one with a jumper in the lane, but UConn went on a 9-0 run, along with St. John's three-minute scoring drought giving the Huskies a 44-35 edge at the half.

St. John's was held to only 14 second half points, and was scoreless in the final 7:08 of the contest. The Red Storm was 4-of-24 from the field (17%) and missed all eight of their attempts from long range. The Huskies were solid in the second half from the free-throw line, shooting a solid 83% on 15-of-18 shooting.

Strother scored 19 of her 27 points in the first half, and hit seven three-point shots on 7-of-13 shooting. Her seven three-pointers represented a career-best effort, and she recorded her first double-double of the season and third of her career as she snared 10 rebounds. Sherwood finished the game with a career-high 10 rebounds and also added nine points. Junior Ashley Battle scored a season-high 15 points and grabbed eight rebounds for Connecticut.

Kim MacMillan and Danielle Chambers each scored 11 points for the Red Storm while Stevens added 10.

Thompson-Boling Arena ▶ Knoxville, Tenn.

#4/#3 Connecticut - 81
#1/#1 Tennessee - 67

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (Feb. 5, 2004) – In an all-around team effort by the Connecticut women's basketball team, four players scored in double-figures to lead the fourth-ranked Huskies past top-ranked Tennessee, 81-67, in non-conference action at Thompson-Boling Arena on Thursday evening.

Diana Taurasi had a game-high 18 points, plus added five rebounds and five assists in the win. With her three 3-pointers, Taurasi became UConn's all-time leading three-point shooter. She now has 280 career 3-pointers over 128 games, pushing past Wendy Davis' former UConn record total of 279 3-pointers over 127 games.

The win improved the Huskies to 17-2 overall. UConn has now won three straight games against No. 1 teams and is 4-2 all-time against top-ranked opponents. Tennessee drops to 18-2 on the season, snapping its 11-game win streak.

Sophomore Ann Strother had another solid outing scoring 17 points and grabbing seven rebounds and Barbara Turner notched 16 points and was one rebound shy of recording a double-double. Ashley Battle added 11 points and had three key steals for the Huskies.

Shanna Zolman gave the Lady Vols a 9-8 lead, their second and last of the evening, on a pair of free throws in the first five minutes of the game. The Huskies then responded with an 8-0 run taking the 16-9 advantage on two consecutive shots by Ashley Battle.

Tennessee recovered tying the score at 21 apiece after Brittany Jackson hit a jumper followed by a three-point shot. In the next five minutes, Connecticut slowly pushed ahead only to have the Lady Vols tie the score at both 26 and 28 points. UConn then scored 13 of the next 18 points to end the half with a 41-33 edge and the largest lead for the Huskies.

Connecticut was solid on the boards bringing down 17 offensive rebounds and scoring 20 second chance points. UConn committed only eight turnovers to Tennessee's 16 during the game. Despite the Lady Vols strong outing from the free-throw line shooting 18-for-21, Tennessee could not outlast the Huskies who shot 60 percent on 17-for-28 shots from the line.

Gampel Pavilion ▶ Storrs, Conn.

#22/#20 Miami - 65
#4/#3 Connecticut - 83

STORRS, Conn. (Feb. 8, 2004) – Diana Taurasi scored 21 points to lead three teammates in double figures as third-ranked Connecticut defeated 20th-ranked Miami, 83-65, before the 80th consecutive sellout at Gampel Pavilion.

The Huskies were able to take a comfortable lead in the first half despite committing 19 turnovers in the initial twenty minutes. The Hurricanes, however, were unable to take advantage of the sloppy play by UConn, as they only scored eight points off of those 19 Husky miscues. Taurasi scored 15 points before intermission, connecting on five of six shots from the field, including a perfect three for three on 3-pointers. It was the seventh time this season Taurasi has scored at least 20 points. Her six steals set a career-mark.

UConn was able to stretch their lead to as many as 25, at 60-35, before head coach Geno Auriemma emptied his bench. The Huskies made 53% (30 of 57) of their field goal attempts, which helped offset their 33 turnovers, which marked a season high.

Joining Taurasi in double figures for the Huskies were Ashley Battle, who scored a career-high 18 points off of the bench, Ann Strother, who scored 17, and Jessica Moore who tallied 13. For Strother, it continued her strong play of late, which has seen her average 20.1 points over her last three contests. Moore added a game high 10 rebounds, which enabled her to notch the fourth double-double of her career.

The Huskies out rebounded Miami, 46-30, and did dish out 24 assists, paced by Barbara Turner's five. UConn scored 42 points in the paint, and shot 75% (18 of 24) from the foul line.

Miami was paced by Chanivia Broussard and Tamara James, who scored 20 and 19 points, respectively.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (Feb. 11, 2004) – Sophomore Barbara Turner led all scorers with 13 points and led three other UConn players in double-figures as the University of Connecticut women's basketball team crushed Syracuse, 82-38 at Manley Field House.

After both teams missed its first four attempts, Syracuse got on the board on a two-point shot from Sarah Wegrzynowicz. The Huskies first basket came when Diana Taurasi was fouled at the 16:34 mark making one of her two shots. Ann Strother and Barbara Turner scored on two consecutive baskets after a Syracuse turnover edging ahead 5-2, but Rochelle Coleman hit a 3-pointer to tie the score. The Huskies then began to creep ahead and went on a 35-10 run to end the half and take the 43-15 halftime lead.

In the first half, Connecticut was 5-for-15 from three-point range, while the Orangewomen were 1-for-11 from behind the arc, an average of nine percent. The 15 points scored by Syracuse in the first half was the lowest UConn has held an opponent to all season.

Ashley Battle had 11 points off the bench for the Huskies and grabbed five rebounds. Both Strother and Taurasi scored 10 points apiece. Junior Jessica Moore was one point shy of recording her second double-double in as many games with nine points and 10 rebounds. The Huskies dominated the boards taking down 42 rebounds to Syracuse's 30.

Tracy Harbur came in off the bench for Syracuse scoring eight of the Orangewomen's 15 first half points setting a new career-high for herself and ended the game with 10 total points. The Huskies held Syracuse's leading scorer Julie McBride to only two points in the first half. She had nine second-half points for a game total of 11 while adding five rebounds, five assists and three steals.

PISCATAWAY, N.J. (Feb. 14, 2004) – Sophomore Barbara Turner scored a career-high 27 points as the Connecticut women's basketball team's cruised past Rutgers, 66-43, at the Louis Brown Athletic Center on Saturday night before a crowd of 7,734 fans.

The Huskies bounded out to an early 8-0 lead before Rutgers' Dawn McCullouch hit a long two-point shot at the 14:59 mark to put the Scarlet Knights on the board. UConn continued to roll scoring the next 13 points to take a 21-2 lead. The Huskies' took their largest lead of the half into the locker room with a 34-10 advantage.

Turner, junior Jessica Moore and sophomore Ann Strother combined for 31 of UConn's 34 points in the first half. Senior Diana Taurasi scored on a lay-up and junior Ashley Battle hit a free-throw for UConn's other three first-half points. UConn was dominant in the paint scoring 22 points to Rutgers' four inside the lane.

The Huskies held Rutgers' leading scorer Cappie Pondexter to only three points while McCullouch had a total of five first-half points. The last time a UConn opponent scored less than 10 points in a half was on December 4, 2001 when St. John's was held to nine points.

At the 14:44 mark of the second half, McCullouch hit a 3-pointer bringing the score to 46-22, giving Rutgers more points in the first three and-a-half minutes of the second half than they scored in the entire first half.

Turner added eight rebounds and shot 12-for-15 from the floor, along with her career-high 27 points. Moore notched her third double-double of the season with 10 points and 14 rebounds. Strother scored 15 points and Taurasi added 11 points. The Huskies grabbed 48 rebounds in the win but were only 53 percent from the free throw line shooting 9-for-17.

NR/NR Pittsburgh - 42
#2/#1 Connecticut - 97

HARTFORD, Conn. (Feb. 17, 2004) – Ashley Battle scored 15 points to lead three teammates in double figures as top-ranked Connecticut used a near-perfect first half to take a 35-point lead at intermission on their way to a 97-42 victory over Pittsburgh before the usual sellout crowd of 16,294 at the Hartford Civic Center.

The Huskies made seven of their first nine shots on their way to a 17-9 lead just 4:25 into the contest. The first three UConn baskets were three pointers by Ann Strother (two) and one by Diana Taurasi. Pittsburgh got within four on consecutive hoops, but UConn scored the next 11 points on their way to a 39-8 run to end the half, enjoying a 56-21 lead on their way to the locker room. Freshman Liz Sherwood scored 10 of her career-high 14 points in the first half in just four productive minutes. The 56 points scored by UConn in the opening stanza were the most in a half since scoring 56 in each half against Pittsburgh on January 2, 2002.

Battle paced the UConn attack by connecting on seven of eight field goal attempts. Sherwood connected on six of seven shots. Taurasi chipped in with 11 points, while Barbara Turner added 10. The Huskies 97 points represented their highest total since amassing 97 against Georgetown on February 26, 2003.

UConn was dialed in from long range throughout the game, making 12 of 20 from long distance. Their 12 successes were a season-high, and is tied for fourth all time in the program's history. They were greedy on the defensive end, snagging a season high 18 steals in forcing 24 Pittsburgh turnovers. UConn converted those 24 miscues into 38 points off turnovers.

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (Feb. 21, 2004) – Junior Jessica Moore scored a season-high 21 points to lead the top-ranked University of Connecticut women's basketball team to an 81-60 win over No. 23 Boston College at the Conte Forum on Saturday afternoon. Four players scored in double figures for the Huskies as they won their 11th straight game, and now stand at 5-1 against ranked teams this season with the last five having been UConn victories.

After trailing 5-0 early in the first half, the Huskies went on to outscore the Eagles 20-2, in the next 6:25. The run included eight straight points by senior All-American Diana Taurasi, including two three-pointers. The Eagles came within no fewer than 10 points for the remainder of the half, and the Huskies took a 15-point lead into the break.

Junior Ashley Battle was UConn's leading scorer in the first half with nine points. Boston College freshman Sarah Marshall came off the bench to lead the Eagles with nine points.

After the break, Boston College got some help from their leading scorer this season, Jessalyn Deveny, who was scoreless in the first half but scored 12 points in the first nine minutes of the second half. Despite Deveny's efforts, the Eagles were able to come no closer than 14 points throughout the second half.

Taurasi tallied six assists in the game to surpass former teammate Sue Bird and take over second place on the UConn all-time career assists list. Taurasi has now totaled 587 assists in her career, and needs 50 more to tie UConn's all-time assist leader Jennifer Rizzotti with 637.

Battle came one shy of her career-high with 17 points in the game, and also added seven rebounds. Moore grabbed a team-high eight rebounds to go along with her 21 points, and Taurasi and sophomore Barbara Turner also finished in double figures with 13 and 10 points, respectively.

Amber Jacobs led Boston College with 15 points, and Deveny, scoring all of her points in the second half, finished with 13.

VILLANOVA, Pa. (Feb. 28, 2004) – Despite dropping a 59-56 decision at the hands of Villanova, the No. 1/1 Connecticut women's basketball team clinched the outright 2004 BIG EAST regular season title on Saturday night at the Pavilion in Philadelphia, Pa. The Huskies clinched their 11th consecutive and 14th overall BIG EAST title in the program's history.

Senior All-American Diana Taurasi became the first player in UConn women's basketball history to notch 2,000 career points and 600 career assists. Taurasi ended the night with eight points and four assists to push her current career total to an even 2,000 points and 601 assists.

UConn had its season-best 12-game win streak snapped in the loss while Villanova remained undefeated at 12-0 on its home floor. The Huskies record drops to 23-3 overall and 13-2 in the BIG EAST, while the Wildcats improve to 21-5 overall and hold an 11-4 record in league action.

Connecticut had not lost back-to-back games vs. a BIG EAST opponent since January 15, 1993 and February 14, 1993 against Miami.

Taurasi had one last chance as she dashed the length of the court with 3.8 seconds remaining and hoisted a three, which rimmed out of the basket, from five feet beyond the arc as time expired.

UConn sophomore Barbara Turner scored a game-high 25 points, including 3-of-4 shooting from 3-point range. Turner was the only Husky to score in double-figures. Sophomore Ann Strother added nine points.

Suez was unstoppable in the second half as she finished a perfect 8-for-8 from the floor. After scoring only three first-half points, she posted 20 in the second and sealed the victory with her only two free throw attempts of the night in the final seconds of the game.

Villanova was red hot in the second half, shooting 70 percent from the field while out-scoring the Huskies 36-27 over that span.

For only the third time this season, Connecticut did not lead the points in the paint battle, as they finished tied with the Wildcats 16-16, and now stand 0-3 in games that they have not led in that category.

STORRS, Conn. (Mar. 2, 2004) - Junior center Jessica Moore scored 20 points to lead five teammates in double figures as the No. 4/3 Connecticut routed West Virginia, 100-72 on Senior Night, before the 82nd straight sellout at Gampel Pavilion.

The win improves the Huskies' record to 24-3, 14-2 in the BIG EAST Conference. The Mountaineers slip to 19-9, 10-6 in league play.

Senior All-America Diana Taurasi, playing for the final time at Gampel Pavilion, scored 17 points and dished out 10 assists in concluding her illustrious UConn career. She amassed 12 points and nine assists in the first half. UConn led 56-36 at intermission, after shooting 56% (22 of 39). The 56 points at the half tied the Huskies' season-high in an opening half, equaling their total against Pittsburgh. Senior point guard Maria Conlon, also playing her final game at Gampel, scored all 12 of her points in the opening stanza, connecting on four of five 3-point attempts, which tied career-best.

Moore was solid all night for UConn, connecting on nine of 12 field goal attempts and yanking down nine rebounds. Ann Strother scored 15 points, while Barbara Turner and Willnett Crockett each scored 14. Turner also yanked down a game-high 12 rebounds, which were one off of her career-high.

With six Huskies reaching double figures, UConn reached a feat it had not done since achieving it against Seton Hall on February 6, 2002.

UConn out-rebounded West Virginia 52-30, and finished the contest shooting 58% (39 of 67). West Virginia finished shooting 37% (25 of 67).

The win marked the 51st straight success for the Huskies in the friendly confines of Gampel Pavilion, and was UConn's 158th straight at home against unranked opponents.

HARTFORD, Conn. (March 7, 2004) – Sophomore Barbara Turner scored 13 points and junior center Jessica Moore chipped in with 11 as third-ranked Connecticut defeated Virginia Tech, 48-34, Sunday afternoon in the quarterfinals of the 2004 BIG EAST Championship at the Hartford Civic Center.

The win improves the Huskies' record to 25-3, while the Hokies slip to 22-7. The win advances top-seeded UConn into Monday's semifinals where they will face fifth-seeded Boston College.

The Huskies struggled offensively throughout the contest, but were able to be victorious due to a tenacious defense that held Virginia Tech to just 26% shooting, 23% after halftime. It was the second best field goal defense of the campaign for UConn, trailing just the 24% performance of St. Joseph's on December 21. A late 3-pointer by Carrie Mason allowed the Hokies to avoid setting a school record for fewest points scored in a game. UConn narrowly missed setting a Championship record for fewest points allowed in a game, just off the 32 points Villanova scored against Rutgers in 2000.

UConn trailed just twice in the contest, the last time at 8-6, but never seemed to have total control of the contest. The Huskies led 21-14 at the half and led by just nine at 38-29, with 4:50 to play, but scored the game's next eight points on three-point plays by Ashley Battle and Turner, sandwiched around a Moore lay-up. The run gave the Huskies a 46-29 lead and they cruised to the victory.

The win enabled the Huskies to win for the 30th time in their last 31 BIG EAST Championship games, and UConn now stands 17-3 all-time in quarterfinal round games, 2-0 against Virginia Tech.

The Huskies were able to win despite a sub-par performance by two-time Conference Player of the Year Diana Taurasi, who scored just four points on 2 of 10 shooting. Battle came off of the bench to score seven points and yank down a game-high 10 rebounds. UConn shot just 32% (18 of 57), which was their second worst shooting performance of the season, only eclipsed by their 31% shooting at Notre Dame on January 13.

HARTFORD, Conn. (March 8, 2004) – The top-seeded Connecticut women's basketball team suffered an upset in the semifinals of the 2004 BIG EAST Championship by Boston College 73-70 on Monday night at the Hartford Civic Center.

The Huskies ranked No. 4 nationally stand at 25-4 while No. 23 Boston College improves to 24-6 on the season.

The Eagles had an answer for every Connecticut basket and shot a season-high 63 percent from the field. The percentage was also a tournament single-game best. Boston College will be playing in its third conference final on Tuesday night and has never won a tournament title.

UConn has played in 14 of the last 15 championship games and was eliminated by Providence in 1993 quarterfinals, the last time the Huskies were not in the finals. UConn fell short of the title for the second straight year after winning a league-best nine tournament titles in a row.

Boston College's Jessalyn Deveny scored 20 points and Kathrin Ress added 18, including the game-winning free throw with 26.2 seconds remaining in the game. Ress dominated inside and was 8-for-11 from the floor.

UConn battled back from an 11 point deficit to knot the game at 59-59 on a lay up by Ashley Battle with 7:42 left. Maria Conlon followed a Boston College free throw with her second 3-pointer of the game, which moved her into a tie for fifth among the school's career leaders, to give UConn a two-point lead at 62-60.

Boston College would score the next four points to open a 64-62 advantage before Taurasi hit a 3-pointer with 4:28 left to help the Huskies reclaim the lead at 65-64.

Deveny drilled a 3-pointer with 3:14 left to make the score 68-65 Boston College, before Ress added a mid-range jumper to increase the margin to five points.

UConn managed to tie the game at 70-70 but would get no closer as Boston College notched the final three points, all from the free throw line, of the contest to secure the 73-70 win.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (March 23, 2004) – Naismith Player of the Year Diana Taurasi poured in 17 points and three other Huskies scored in double figures as the University of Connecticut women's basketball team defeated Auburn 79-53 in second round action of the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Championship in front of 9,091 at the Arena at Harbor Yard in Bridgeport, Conn.

Taurasi's 17 points brought her career total to 345 in NCAA Tournament play, good for second on the all-time list.

After leading by only six points at intermission, the Huskies seized control of the contest early in the second half with stingy defense and nearly flawless offense. UConn scored the first 10 points of the second half to take a commanding 52-36 lead at the 15:50 mark on one of Taurasi's five 3-pointers. UConn's suffocating defense would hold the Tigers without a field goal for the first 16:11 of the second stanza and the Huskies would sprint out to a 72-42 lead on the strength of a 30-4 run to start the second half.

Sophomore Ann Strother scored 16 points and connected on 6-of-10 shots including 4-of-8 from deep. Strother also dished out four assists while not committing a single turnover. Barbara Turner dropped in 13 points, snared a game-high six rebounds and added six assists and Maria Conlon chipped in with 12 points, all on three point field goals.

Auburn came into the contest as one of the best rebounding clubs in the nation, but the Huskies out worked the Tigers and held a 36-to-25 advantage on the glass. UConn held Auburn to a miniscule 17.4% shooting (4-of-23) in the second half. The Husky offense was in full gear, as UConn connected on 30-of-54 from the field, with 23 of those buckets coming via the assist.

The Huskies took their largest lead of the game, 77-44, with 3:00 remaining in the contest on an Ashley Valley three ball.

Taurasi's second assist of the day at the 8:27 mark of the first half was the 638th of her career, surpassing former Husky great Jen Rizzotti's all-time record of 637.

The Huskies led 28-22 at halftime and the two teams went back and forth in the early stages of the second session. The Gauchos rallied midway through the second half and pulled to within two, 36-34, with 11:40 remaining in regulation after putting together a 7-2 mini-run. The Huskies would answer though, mounting a 9-0 run, which began with an Ashley Battle 3-pointer and ended with a pair of Battle free throws as the Huskies constructed a 45-34 advantage at the 9:20 mark. The Gauchos would pull to within five with under a minute to go, but the Huskies would ice the game with clutch free throw shooting and marched onto the Elite Eight.

Barbara Turner was the third Husky in double-figures with 13 points. Turner also grabbed five rebounds and dished out four assists. Battle was tremendous on the boards this afternoon, pulling down eight caroms in 20 minutes of action.

The Huskies out-rebounded the Gauchos 41-to-34 on the afternoon, including 25-to-18 on the defensive glass. UConn's dominance underneath is best manifested in its 24-to-14 advantage in points in the paint.

April McDivitt led the way for UCSB with 20 points.

HARTFORD, Conn. (March 29, 2004) – East Regional MVP Diana Taurasi and sophomore Barbara Turner combined for 53 points on Monday evening to lead the University of Connecticut women's basketball team past Penn State, 66-49, and into its record fifth consecutive NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Final Four.

The defending national champion Huskies advance to the Final Four for the eighth time in the program's history.

The Husky senior class of Taurasi, Maria Conlon, and Morgan Valley have completed their careers with a record of 64-2 in games played at the Hartford Civic Center or Gampel Pavilion. The triad is also a remarkable 20-1 in NCAA Tournament play.

Turner's 26 points were one shy of a career high, but she did record career bests with four three-point field goals. Turner also pulled down six rebounds. Taurasi's game-high 27 points came on 8-of-15 shooting from the field and 9-of-12 shooting from the charity stripe.

After a tremendous defensive effort in the first half, the Huskies' offense began to click in the second session. After Penn State cut its 21-13 halftime deficit to six, 23-17 at the 19:00 mark UConn seized control as Turner scored the game's next eight points, sparking a 14-2 Husky run over the next 2:50.

Connecticut would extend its lead to 21, 47-26 at the 11:50 mark on an Ashley Battle lay up.

Junior Jessica Moore scored eight points and grabbed seven rebounds in the win and sophomore Willnett Crockett recorded seven rebounds in just 12 minutes of action.

Penn State was led in scoring by Tanisha Wright with 16 and All-American Kelly Mazzante was held to just 5-of-17 shooting including 1-of-8 from beyond the arc and scored 14 points.

NEW ORLEANS, La. - (April 4, 2004) -- Diana Taurasi scored 18 points and grabbed six rebounds to lead the University of Connecticut women's basketball team past Minnesota 67-58 and into the Huskies' third consecutive NCAA Tournament Title Game on Sunday evening in front of 18,211 at the New Orleans Arena.

With the victory, the Huskies improve to 30-4 on the season, while the Golden Gophers complete their season with a 25-9 mark. The Huskies have now reached the thirty-win plateau for the fifth consecutive year and the 10th time in the last 11 seasons.

Taurasi's 18-point effort boosted her career-total to 2,139, placing her fourth on UConn's all-time scoring list. Taurasi nailed a free throw with 16:50 remaining in the second half to pass former UConn great Rebecca Lobo's fourth-place total of 2,132.

With the Huskies clinging to a 58-55 edge with 3:20 remaining, sophomore Ann Strother hit a huge 3-pointer that extended the Husky lead to six, and Minnesota would get no closer. Strother's long ball broke a 2:30 scoring drought by both teams and was the effective back-breaker to the Gophers.

Senior point guard Maria Conlon dropped in 10 points and grabbed four rebounds in 34 minutes of action, and sophomore Willnett Crockett scored nine points, six of those coming on put backs off the offensive glass. Jessica Moore scored six points and snared eight rebounds and did a remarkable job of containing Kodak All-American Janel McCarville down low.

Minnesota's other All-American Lindsay Whalen, was held to just 11 points on 3-of-11 shooting. Whalen did dish out seven assists in 38 minutes of action.

The Huskies won the battle of the boards on Sunday, out-rebounding their opponent 36-to-25, including a 24-to-17 edge on the defensive glass.

Taurasi started the scoring with her only 3-pointer of the first half just 15 seconds into the contest, but Minnesota would battle back to take a 9-8 lead at the 15:10 mark on a Janel McCarville lay up. The Huskies countered with a 10-0 run, capped off by a Taurasi driving lay up, over the next 3:10 to seize an 18-9 edge with 11:30 left in the first session. UConn would take its largest lead of the first half, 29-18, after Taurasi converted a three-point play at the 6:42 mark. Minnesota would not lie down though, as the Gophers whittled the lead down to eight, 37-29, at intermission.

NEW ORLEANS, La. - (April 6, 2004) -- NCAA Tournament Most Outstanding Player Diana Taurasi paced four Huskies in double-figures with 17 points as the University of Connecticut women's basketball team defeated Tennessee 70-61 and captured its third consecutive NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Championship on Tuesday night in front of 18,211 at the New Orleans Arena.

With the victory, the Huskies conclude their season with a 31-4 record and remain perfect, 5-0, in national title games. The Lady Vols' complete their season with a 31-4 record as well.

With the triumph, the University of Connecticut becomes the first Division I school to win both the men's and women's basketball national championship in the same season.

The Huskies allowed Tennessee to shrink a 16 point UConn first half lead to just four, 30-26, with 19:40 remaining in regulation. However, All-Tournament Team selection Jessica Moore converted on a reverse lay up thirty seconds later, ending a 7:20 Husky scoring drought. Moore then scored the Huskies' next six points helping the Husky offense to get back on track. A Taurasi 3-pointer capped off a 7-0 Husky run, building the lead to 48-38 with 13:10 to go.

Tennessee hung around though, as a Brittany Jackson long ball with 9:50 remaining cut the Husky lead to 50-48 and the Lady Vols would not go away until Crockett converted on her back-breaking three point play.

Taurasi's 17 points came on 6-of-11 shooting, including 3-of-7 from behind the arc. Moore scored 14 points on 6-of-9 shooting and also hauled down nine rebounds, and Barbara Turner was outstanding against the rugged Tennessee frontline as she scored 12 points and snared eight boards. All-Tournament Team member Ann Strother also scored 14 for UConn.

The Husky defense was exceptional tonight, holding the Lady Vols to a chilly 22-of-61 (36%) clip from the field. The UConn offense was in full gear as well as the Huskies shot 24-of-51 (47%) from the field, and were a sizzling 7-of-14 from behind the arc. Tennessee won the battle of the boards, as the Lady Vols out-rebounded the Huskies 39-to-31 on the evening, and held a 17-to-7 edge on the offensive glass.

Academic All-America Hall of Fame

Dr. Leigh Curl '85

1998 ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICA HALL OF FAME INDUCTEE:

Dr. Leigh Curl was inducted into the GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame on June 10, 1998.

Curl, a two-time Academic All-America choice, was a basketball standout at the University of Connecticut (1981-1985). Curl, who scored 1,388 points in her career, was only the third woman in Connecticut history to score 1,000 points and is currently No. 12 at UConn in career points. The four-year starter and two-year captain was also Summa Cum Laude in biology and the valedictorian of her graduating class at UConn. Curl was also the 1985 BIG EAST Scholar-Athlete and the UConn Women's Basketball Scholar-Athlete.

One Professor at Connecticut saw her potential and thought she was bound for bigger and better things - Dr. Ted Taigen. Curl did her honors thesis in Taigen's lab and there he noticed her talent and aptitude in biology. Taigen talked her into applying to medical school.

Curl was accepted into Johns Hopkins School of Medicine where she got her degree while volunteering as a team physician for USA Basketball and the New York City public schools recreation program.

Currently the head team physician for the 2001 NFL Super Bowl Champions Baltimore Ravens, Curl is only the sixth woman ever to be inducted into the Hall of Fame. The other 1998 inductees were: Bernie Kosar (Miami), Jack Mildren (Oklahoma), Jack Sikma (Illinois Wesleyan) and Marv Levy (Coe College).

NOTES: With 19 seconds left and UConn trailing 80-78, three-time BIG EAST Player-of-the-Year senior center Kerry Bascom connected on a three-point play (a driving layup and subsequent free throw) to give UConn its final margin of victory... The win, in front of 4,623 fans at the Harry A. Gampel Pavilion in Storrs, was the first-ever NCAA victory and sent UConn to its first Final 16 appearance... The Huskies, the No. 3 seed, received a first round bye... Bascom's three-point play gave her a game-high 39 points, also a then-UConn single-game record... Her 39 points were the third highest single game total in NCAA Tournament first or second round history... At the buzzer, a foul was whistled on a Husky player under the Toledo basket, but after further review by the two game officials, the standby official and the scoreboard operator, it was determined that the whistle was after the final buzzer... Bascom was 13-of-20 from the field (5-of-7 in 3-pointers), eight-for-11 from the foul line and pulled down a game-high 12 rebounds... UConn shot .476 (30-of-63), while Toledo shot .482 (27-of-56) from the floor... The Huskies held a 36-27 rebounding edge... Top Husky scorers besides Bascom included junior guard Wendy Davis (14 points, 4-of-8 in three-pointers) and junior forward Meghan Pattyson (13 points).

NOTES: Playing its first NCAA Regional Championship, the No. 3 regional seed Huskies advanced to its first Final Eight berth with the upset win over No. 2 seed NC State... The Huskies set an East Regional record by hitting at a nine-for-16 clip from three-point range... The junior guard duo of reserve Orly Grossman (4-for-6 in three-pointers, 17 points) and starter Wendy Davis (4-for-7, 14 points) were UConn's biggest three-point threats in the win over the Wolfpack... Connecticut senior co-captains Kerry Bascom (game-high 23 points, team-high seven rebounds) and Laura Lishness (22 points) combined for 45 points on the night, as Connecticut stopped ACC power NC State (27-6)... Davis also netted the 1,000th point of her Husky career with a 17-foot jumper with 15:21 left in the contest, to become the eighth UConn player to surpass the 1,000-career point milestone... UConn trailed by 10, (46-36) with 15:47 remaining before the Huskies went on a 16-4 run over the next 5:19 to take a 54-47 lead on a Lishness layup at 10:28... In this run, the Huskies converted on four three-pointers, two by Davis and one apiece by Bascom and Grossman... NC State closed the gap to five (62-57) on senior guard Andrea Stinson's layup (at 6:20), but Grossman then hit a 20-foot jumper and Lishness followed with a reverse layup to up the Husky edge to 10, 67-57, with 4:11 left... Connecticut shot a solid 51.7% from the field (31-of-60) and limited the Wolfpack to 40.0% (30-of-75) accuracy... NC State outrebounded UConn, 43-34.

NOTES: A late overtime flurry by Tennessee prevented the Huskies with a chance to repeat as NCAA Champion, as the Lady Vols prevailed, 88-83, in overtime at the Charlotte Coliseum... UConn's luck ran out in overtime against the Lady Vols after three straight wins over its rival from the SEC... Nykesha Sales, with a career-high 28 points, hit a three-point jumper from the top of the key with four seconds left in regulation to force overtime, yet Jennifer Rizzotti's three-pointer to tie it in OT with three seconds to go was ripped away by UT's 6-4 sophomore Tiffani Johnson...What made UConn's comeback that more dramatic was that the Huskies played the final 1:19 of the second half and overtime without leading scorer Kara Wolters (13 points, 10 rebounds, six blocks), who fouled out with UConn trailing 73-70... The UConn season began and ended with overtime losses on a neutral court - to Louisiana Tech (ironically, in Knoxville, TN) and then to Tennessee... There were 12 lead changes and 18 ties in the contest... The teams entered overtime tied 75-75, and the teams traded baskets before UT took the lead for good, 82-81 on a free throw by senior guard Michelle Marciniak with 1:43 to play... Tennessee would go seven-for-eight from the line in the final 1:43 for their final points of the game... After two free throws by Abby Conklin (84-81) with 1:22 left and a UT 30-second violation, UConn pulled within one, 84-83 on a Sales driving layup with 19.9 seconds to go...Marciniak was fouled on the next possession, and sank both ends of a one-and-one two seconds later (86-83)... UConn saw its last shot blocked (Rizzotti's) and two foul shots one second later by UT senior Latina Davis sealed the 88-83 win...Sales scored half of UConn's 30 first half points.

NOTES: Diana Taurasi notched 21 points to lead four Huskies in double figures as the Connecticut women's team defeated Purdue, 73-64, at the Dayton University Arena in Dayton Ohio... Purdue got off to a good start as Shereka Wright converted on an old-fashioned three-point play one minute into the contest, however, Purdue went ice-cold from the floor for the remainder of the half, missing its next 13 attempts from the field, and UConn took advantage by rattling off 17 consecutive points... Purdue heated up in the second half, hitting five of its first ten shots, but the Huskies were able to thwart a Boilermaker come-back by answering each of Purdue's buckets with two points of their own, increasing its lead to 22 points with 8:20 left in the game... However, UConn would not hit another field goal the rest of the way and Purdue launched a 20-to four run over the next 6:20 and pulled to within six points of the Huskies at the two minute mark, 66-60. The six point deficit was the smallest of the game since the 17:15 mark in the first half... UConn finished the game hitting 5-6 free-throws in the final minute to preserve the win.

NOTES: NCAA Tournament Most Outstanding Player Diana Taurasi paced four Huskies in double-figures with 17 points ...With the victory, the Huskies conclude their season with a 31-4 record and remain perfect, 5-0, in national title games. The Lady Vols' complete their season with a 31-4 record...the University of Connecticut becomes the first Division I school to win both the men's and women's basketball national championship in the same season....The Huskies allowed Tennessee to shrink a 16 point UConn first half lead to just four, 30-26, with 19:40 remaining in regulation....All-Tournament Team selection Jessica Moore converted on a reverse lay up thirty seconds later, ending a 7-20 Husky scoring drought. Moore then scored the Huskies' next six points helping the Husky offense to get back on track. A Taurasi 3-pointer capped off a 7-0 Husky run, building the lead to 48-38 with 13:10 to go....Tennessee hung around though, as a Brittany Jackson long ball with 9:50 remaining cut the Husky lead to 50-48 and the Lady Vols would not go away until Crockett converted on her back-breaking three point play. ...Taurasi's 17 points came on 6-of-11 shooting, including 3-of-7 from behind the arc....All-Tournament Team member Ann Strother also scored 14 for UConn.

THE BIG EAST STORY

After celebrating its 25th anniversary a year ago, the BIG EAST Conference moves forward in 2004-05 with new members poised to join a conference that gives unequivocal importance to providing student-athletes with opportunities to excel against the nation's best.

In 2005-06, the league will add five new members: University of Cincinnati, DePaul University, University of Louisville, Marquette University and the University of South Florida.

Since opening its doors in 1979, the league has won 24 national championships in six different sports and 122 student-athletes have won individual national titles. The BIG EAST has always been able to boast that some of its best students are also some of its best athletes. More than 300 student-athletes have earned Academic All-America honors.

In 2003-04, three BIG EAST student-athletes were named the national scholar-athlete of the year in their respective sports - Connecticut's Emeka Okafor in men's basketball, Notre Dame's Vanessa Pruzinsky in women's soccer and St. John's Chris Wingert in men's soccer.

BIG EAST student-athletes also have continued their success after leaving the classrooms and playing fields. Former Connecticut women's basketball standout Dr. Leigh Curl was inducted into the Academic All-America Hall of Fame in 1999. Former Georgetown men's basketball star Dikembe Mutombo was named a winner of the President's Service Award, the highest honor in the U.S. for volunteer service.

Notre Dame's Jacqueline Batteast

West Virginia's Meg Bulger

The BIG EAST continued to thrive on the playing fields and in the playing arenas in 2003-04. In basketball, Connecticut won the men's and women's NCAA titles. With the Syracuse men and the UConn women also grabbing NCAA crowns the previous season, the BIG EAST became the first conference in NCAA history to win the men's and women's titles in consecutive seasons. In fact, the BIG EAST has won the last five women's basketball titles.

Also in '03-04, St. John's played in the NCAA men's soccer national championship game. Connecticut made it to the women's soccer final and Georgetown played in its third women's lacrosse Final Four in the last four years. Providence placed third in women's cross country.

Whether it's the student-athletes or the league as a whole, moving proactively has been a consistent strategy for the conference that was formed in 1979.

In the spring of 2001, the BIG EAST added women's lacrosse to its growing list of sports. The inaugural women's golf championship was held in the spring of 2003.

The BIG EAST became a reality on May 31, 1979, following a meeting of athletic directors from Providence College, St. John's, Georgetown and Syracuse Universities. Seton Hall, Connecticut and Boston College completed the original seven school alliance.

While the membership has both increased and changed, the focus of the BIG EAST has not wavered. The conference reflects a tradition of broad based programs, led by administrators and coaches who place a constant emphasis on academic integrity. The BIG EAST Conference has enjoyed a leadership role nationally. Its student athletes own significantly high graduation rates and their record of scholastic achievement notably show a balance between intercollegiate athletics and academics.

Any successful organization enjoys outstanding leadership. Michael Tranghese, the league's first full-time employee, and for 11 years the associate to Dave Gavitt, moved into the Commissioner's chair in 1990. In his first year, he administered the formation of The BIG EAST Football Conference.

BIG EAST sports attract the interest of followers in the nation's largest media markets including New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Washington, D.C., Pittsburgh and Hartford. When the new schools are added in 2005-06, the BIG EAST markets will contain almost one fourth of all television households in the U.S.

The league has long been considered a leader in innovative concepts in promotion and publicity, particularly regarding television. Those efforts have resulted in unparalleled visibility for BIG EAST student athletes. The conference has long range television contracts with CBS, ESPN, Inc. and ABC.

While BIG EAST basketball games are regular sellouts at campus and major public arenas, including the annual BIG EAST Championship in Madison Square Garden, attendance figures also are significant at BIG EAST soccer, women's basketball and baseball games.

More than 500 BIG EAST athletes have earned All America recognition and dozens have won individual NCAA national championships. The BIG EAST has been well represented in U.S. or foreign national and Olympic teams. Several athletes earned gold medals in each of the last five summer Olympiads.

The BIG EAST has its headquarters in Providence where the conference administers to more than 5,500 athletes in 23 sports.

UConn's Success in the BIG EAST

The University of Connecticut women's basketball team has dominated the BIG EAST conference, winning 14 regular season titles and 11 tournament championships. The combined 25 titles is more than any other basketball team in the league - men's or women's teams.

UConn has posted a 273-78 (.778) regular season conference mark since the 1982-83 season. The Huskies have also won 42 of 53 tournament games for a .792 winning percentage.

The chart below illustrates how Connecticut has collected its BIG EAST wins over the years.

Leading the way was Kerry Bascom, who won three Player of the Year titles in 1989, 1990 and 1991. UConn standout Rebecca Lobo was honored with the title twice in 1994 and 1995 and Olympic Gold-Medalist Diana Taurasi was honored in 2003 and 2004.

Jennifer Rizzotti, Kara Wolters, Nykesha Sales, Svetlana Abrosimova, Shea Ralph and most recently, Sue Bird, have also been named BIG EAST Player of the Year. Most recently, Diana Taurasi was tabbed with the honor for the 2003-04 season.

The BIG EAST Conference announced that five institutions have accepted invitations for membership into the league. Those schools are: University of Cincinnati, DePaul University, University of Louisville, Marquette University, and the University of South Florida. The additions were authorized by a vote of the league's Presidents.

All five universities, which currently compete in Conference USA, will begin BIG EAST Conference play in the 2005-06 academic year.

"This is a very exciting day in the history of the BIG EAST," said Commissioner Michael Tranghese. "We are thrilled to be joined by five great institutions, all of whom exemplify the characteristics of sportsmanship and scholarship that are central to the BIG EAST tradition. We look forward to the added enthusiasm and vigorous competition our new members will bring to our men's and women's sports and to the expanded reach into even more of the nation's top media markets our conference will achieve under our new structure."

"The addition of five highly-competitive institutions today ensures that the BIG EAST will remain one of the nation's premier athletic conferences," said Rev. Edmund J. Dobbin, OSA, President of Villanova University and Chair of the BIG EAST Presidents. "The extraordinary spirit of cooperation that existed among our membership during the past few months enabled us to work quickly and efficiently to enhance our future."

1989 - UConn's first BIG EAST Tournament Championship Team

The 1989 BIG EAST Tournament marked the first of many successful league tournaments for the Huskies. UConn wrapped up the regular season with a 13-2 BIG EAST record, finishing first and claiming the No. 1 seed in the league tournament. UConn played under the direction of associate head coach Chris Dailey. Seton Hall hosted the championship and the Huskies faced Georgetown first. UConn defeated the Hoyas, 85-73, to advance to only the program's second BIG EAST Semifinal. In that game, UConn took a 65-45 win over Boston College. For the final, UConn matched up against a tough Providence team, taking a convincing 84-65 victory for the Huskies' first BIG EAST Tournament Championship. Kerry Bascom was dubbed the tournament MVP while Kris Lamb was named to the All-Tournament team.

Two years after winning its first league tournament title, the 1990-91 Huskies went to the Georgetown campus to claim a second. UConn won the league's regular season title for the third time with a 14-2 BIG EAST record for the No. 1 seed and took a 64-47 win from Villanova in the opener. Connecticut then faced Seton Hall, battling to a 69-54 victory. The championship game pit UConn against Providence in a game that remained close throughout. However, the Huskies prevailed, 79-74, in one of the closest final contests in tournament history. Meghan Pattyson was the MVP of the tournament, while Kerry Bascom was an All-Tournament selection.

1994 BIG EAST Champions

The 1993-94 season began Connecticut's 'total dominance' of the BIG EAST as the Huskies would start its streak of eight consecutive regular season and tournament titles by winning the 1993-94 regular season with a 17-1 record and adding the league's tournament championship in the familiar surroundings of Gampel Pavilion. UConn defeated St. John's in the opening game, 69-45, and overpowered Providence, winning by 36 points in a 92-56 romp. UConn then took its third league tournament title with a 77-51 victory over Seton Hall in the final. Rebecca Lobo was named the MVP of the tournament, while Jamelle Elliott and Kara Wolters were named to the All-Tournament Team.

In 1996-97, the Huskies again brought a perfect 18-0 league mark into the BIG EAST Tournament. UConn hosted the event after earning its fourth consecutive regular season title, but did so without head coach Geno Auriemma. Auriemma missed the tournament to mourn the death of his father, Donato. Associate head coach Chris Dailey took over in Auriemma's stead to lead the Huskies. In the quarterfinals, UConn dropped Villanova, 63-45. The Huskies then defeated Miami, 98-71, to advance to the finals. Connecticut faced Notre Dame in the championship tilt for the second straight year, winning 86-77, for its fourth straight and sixth overall BIG EAST Tournament title. Nykesha Sales earned the MVP honors while Carla Berube and Kara Wolters were on the All-Tournament squad.

1998 BIG EAST Champions

Connecticut won the 1997-98 regular season title with a 17-1 league record and travelled to Rutgers for the BIG EAST Championship. First, UConn took a narrow 84-82 win over West Virginia in a wild shoot-out. The next night was different with a 73-53 victory over Notre Dame. The Huskies faced Rutgers in the finals, the only conference team to defeat them during the regular season. UConn won a close game for the title, 67-58, although playing without the services of injured All-American Nykesha Sales - the BIG EAST Player of the Year. Co-captain Rita Williams was named MVP while rookie Svetlana Abrosimova and Amy Duran earned All-Tournament honors.

In what was billed as an "Instant Classic" by ESPN, the Huskies won their 10th BIG EAST Title, eighth straight, in dramatic fashion when Sue Bird drove the length of the floor and hit a floater in the paint at the buzzer to lift the No. 2 Huskies over top-ranked Notre Dame, 78-76, in the BIG EAST Championship game. The tournament itself was drama-filled as the East Coast was hit with a crippling snow storm over the weekend which caused a leak in the roof of Gampel, delaying UConn's semifinal victory over Rutgers. Freshman Diana Taurasi was named the Tournament Most Outstanding Player, and was the first-ever rookie to garner the honor. Asjha Jones and Shea Ralph earned All-Tournament team honors. Ralph's collegiate career was ended at the end of the first half of the championship game when she tore her ACL.

Harry A. Gampel Pavilion

(opened January 31, 1990)

UConn's All-Time Records at Facility

Overall: 202-15 (.931)

vs. BIG EAST: 118-7 (.944)

vs. Non-conference: 84-8 (.913)

Connecticut Basketball, which during the past 19 years under head coach Geno Auriemma has created an unmatched winning tradition, features one of the best on-campus home court facilities in all of college basketball — Harry A. Gampel Pavilion.

A spacious, state-of-the-art building, Harry A. Gampel Pavilion opened in January of 1990 and totals more than 171,000 square feet in the domed area while an additional 39,000 square feet comprise the attached Wolff-Zackin Natatorium (including a 50-meter Olympic size swimming pool).

The complex was a $28 million project and measures 320 feet in diameter in the circular domed arena area. The brilliant aluminum dome of the Gampel Pavilion towers more than 130 feet in the air from ground level.

The main arena includes two large four-color scoreboards with complete video and graphic message capability. The "Alumni Court" main arena floor is constructed with the latest version of spring aire wood.

During the summer of 1996, the original capacity of Gampel Pavilion (8,241) was increased with additional seating placed above each of the four entrance quadrants of the structure. That placed the capacity at 10,027, however, renovations to the lower level endzones during the summer and fall of 2002 have added another 140 seats. The current capacity of Gampel Pavilion is 10,167, making the building the largest on-campus basketball facility in New England.

The Connecticut women's basketball program is totally housed in Harry A. Gampel Pavilion and was renovated in the summer and fall of 2002.

The Huskies' newly renovated team room includes a spacious varsity locker room with wood grain "pro style" individual lockers as well as an adjoining team lounge and audio-visual area, complete with a study area, large screen television, satellite dish hook-up for scouting and game review, and a stereo sound system.

The Connecticut basketball staff is housed in a suite of offices located adjacent to the team room and directly off the main arena court.

Also included on the arena level of the Harry A. Gampel Pavilion is a unique strength, conditioning and weight training area for the women's basketball program. Supervising that area is Jerry Martin, the women's basketball strength and conditioning coordinator.

Rounding out the arena level of the Gampel Pavilion are individual areas for Connecticut's Division of Athletic Sports Medicine and Athletic Performance staff, headed by Director of Sports Medicine, Dr. Jeffrey Anderson. In addition to being personally based in Gampel Pavilion, Dr. Anderson's office is directly adjacent to the spacious athletic medical training facility. That area houses all of UConn's athletic trainers and physical therapists.

In 2003-04, the UConn women's basketball program played seven home games in Harry A. Gampel Pavilion, attracting 71,169 fans. All seven regular season contests were sellouts of 10,167.

UConn has had a spotless record at home in Gampel Pavilion in eight of the past 11 seasons.

In the past 11 years, UConn is 158-3 at home in Storrs against collegiate opposition (19-0 in 1993-94, 18-0 in 1994-95, 18-1 in 1995-96, 17-0 in 1996-97, 16-0 in 1997-98, 12-1 in 1998-99, 15-1 in 1999-00, 14-0 in 2000-01, 14-0 in 2001-02, 8-0 in 2002-03 and 7-0 in 2003-04).

Since its first game in Harry A. Gampel Pavilion (against Georgetown on January 31, 1990), the UConn women's basketball program is a superb 202-15 (.931 winning percentage) in 217 games against collegiate opponents in its on-campus home facility. That includes an 118-7 record against BIG EAST Conference opponents and an 84-8 mark against non-BIG EAST foes. During the past 11 seasons, UConn is a perfect 89-0 in Gampel Pavilion against BIG EAST Conference opponents.

In addition to outstanding regular season success in Gampel Pavilion, UConn has had remarkable postseason success in the building. The Huskies have won five BIG EAST Tournament titles in Gampel Pavilion (1994, 1996, 1997, 2000, 2001). Connecticut played host to NCAA play in Gampel Pavilion for 14 consecutive years and holds a 24-2 NCAA mark in the facility, including a current 22-game NCAA winning streak in Gampel Pavilion.

The Huskies will once again host the opening two rounds of the NCAA Tournament in 2004-05 after a year hiatus.

Of the 217 UConn women's basketball games played against collegiate opposition in Gampel Pavilion during the past 14 seasons, 129 have been sold out, including the last 82 consecutive games dating back to an 82-69 win over Rutgers on December 31, 1997.

The Harry A. Gampel Pavilion in Storrs has proven to be a very special home for the Connecticut women's basketball program.

The Huskies have won 51 consecutive games at Gampel Pavilion entering the 2004-05 season.

Barbara Turner dished out a team-best seven assists as the Huskies tied the Gampel record with 34 assists vs. Western Michigan in 2003-04.

HARTFORD CIVIC CENTER

For the ninth season in a row, the 2004-05 University of Connecticut women's basketball team will use the Hartford Civic Center as its second home court.

In 2004-05, UConn will play a record-high nine regular-season games in the Hartford Civic Center. In addition, 2004-05 will mark the second of three consecutive seasons in which the Civic Center will serve as the host site of the Big East Tournament.

The Huskies will play six non-league games in the Hartford Civic Center in 2004-05. They open play in Hartford on Dec. 5 vs. Holy Cross before facing Hartford (Dec. 7), George Mason (Dec. 27) and Michigan State (Dec. 29). UConn's other two non-league games feature nationally-televised showdowns with Tennessee (Jan. 8/CBS) and Texas (Jan. 17/ESPN2)

The Huskies also have three BIG EAST games scheduled in Hartford, playing host to Seton Hall (Jan. 22), Rutgers (Feb. 3) and Syracuse (Feb. 19).

In its 2003-04 campaign, Connecticut played a then-record high eight sold out regular-season games in Hartford in addition to a pair of games in the 2004 BIG EAST Tournament and NCAA East Regional Semifinal and Final games vs. UC Santa Barbara and Penn State respectively.

Prior to the 1996-97 season, the UConn women's basketball program had not played in the Hartford Civic Center for seven seasons. Connecticut had played nine women's basketball games in Hartford between 1980 and 1989. All of those contests were part of a UConn men's and women's basketball doubleheader. UConn posted a 5-4 record in those nine games and now sports a 44-6 overall mark in Hartford, including wins in 42 of its last 44 games in the building.

The Hartford Civic Center is located in the heart of downtown Hartford, and part of the Hartford Civic Center mall complex. Until December of 1998, it also served as the home court for the ABL's New England Blizzard of the Women's American Basketball League. A trio of former UConn greats were members of that team—Jennifer Rizzotti, Kara Wolters and Carla Berube.

UCONN TOPS AMONG ATTENDANCE LEADERS

The Connecticut women's basketball program ranks No. 2 nationally in home games total attendance during the past 10 years, falling just short of the No. 1 spot held by Tennessee. The Huskies held the top spot through six years and were the first women's basketball team to consistently boast sellout crowds (10,167 in Gampel Pavilion and 16,294 in the Hartford Civic Center). With advance sellouts throughout the home season in 2003-04 and the same expected for all the Husky home games in the 2004-05 season, UConn's attendance numbers should remain consistent for years to come.

Since the 1993-94 season, UConn has played before 1,893,628 fans in 198 home games (161 in the Harry A. Gampel Pavilion and 37 in the Hartford Civic Center).

UConn vaulted into the No. 1 spot nationally at the conclusion of the 1996-97 season after the Huskies attracted a then-national single-season record 198,998 fans to 19 home dates.

Tennessee moved to the No. 1 spot in total home court attendance for the past seven years after playing all their home games in the Thompson Boling Arena (24,525).

"Connecticut women's basketball is unique. The Huskies have a bond between the entire state allowing us to sell out game after game like no other team can. We definitely have the best fans of any team in the country. The numbers don't lie. Our fans are special to us and we love playing to a full house."

DISTINCTIONS

Ranked the top public university in New England for six consecutive years and now considered among the top public universities in the country by U.S. News and World Report, the University of Connecticut is making great strides as it advances to a position of national leadership in public higher education. As the only public university in New England with its own schools of law, medicine, dental medicine and social work, UConn offers comprehensive, highly acclaimed educational opportunities. UConn has been designated a Carnegie Foundation Research University-Extensive, a distinction shared by fewer than four percent of America's higher education institutions that are lauded for their breadth and range of research.

LOCATION

The University of Connecticut's main campus is located in Storrs, about 30 minutes from Hartford, the state's capital city. UConn is also within driving distance of Boston, New York City and Providence. The University has regional campuses at Avery Point, Stamford, Torrington, Waterbury and West Hartford. UConn's Health Center in Farmington and Schools of Social Work, and Law in the greater Hartford area complete the University's wide range of high quality programs in a number of ideal locations.

STUDENT PROFILE

Founded in 1881, the University of Connecticut enrolls more than 26,000 students representing nearly every state in the nation and more than 100 countries. Increasingly, record numbers of high-achieving students from diverse backgrounds are making UConn their school of choice. Since 1997, UConn's freshman and minority enrollments have risen dramatically as SAT scores for incoming students have soared upward. During this same period, several hundred high school valedictorians and salutatorians have joined the student body. These impressive increases in every measure of student quality signal a boost in the student population eligible to participate in UConn's nationally recognized honors program.

The University of Connecticut maintains a strong tradition of student involvement, which includes more than 300 clubs and organizations that offer opportunities to participate in everything from cultural enrichment to current recreational trends. UConn's Study Abroad Office offers a rich array of programs to broaden a student's education, including travel to more than 25 countries. Additionally, cooperative education programs and internships integrate classroom learning and work experience in business, industry and public service.

A new dormitory complex in South Campus is part of a renovated campus lifestyle at the University of Connecticut.

FACULTY

UConn's faculty members are among the most impressive scholars in the United States. Many are recognized worldwide as leaders in education, research and scholarship. Our professors strive to personalize the UConn experience. Presiding over classes that average about 35 students, faculty members are valuable in their roles as teachers, student advisors and mentors. In UConn's Undergraduate Summer Research program, students have the opportunity to participate in original research or receive a grant to work under the direction of our renowned professors. These University students apply their knowledge and enhance their UConn education.

UConn's professors conduct scientific research of international consequence that garners widespread attention. The University's research in regenerative biology and its historic partnerships with the African National Congress in South Africa and the Metropolitan Opera in New York City are noteworthy accomplishments. UConn's Neag School of Education is home to the revered National Research Center on the Gifted and Talented and the Accelerated Schools Project. The journal Science has reported that researchers in UConn's School of Medicine have successfully isolated the gene that causes the most common form of glaucoma, a breakthrough that could lead to early detection and prevention of blindness.

ACADEMIC BREADTH

UConn encompasses 17 Schools and Colleges offering eight undergraduate degrees in more than 100 majors, 13 graduate degrees in more than 80 fields of study, and graduate professional programs in business, law, medicine, dental medicine, pharmacy and social work.

ATTRACTIONS

The Lodewick Visitors Center is the gateway to UConn. It introduces students to the unique facilities that define the University's 4,000-acre main campus.

Visitors may experience it all while lodging in the Nathan Hale Inn, a convenient hotel and conference facility on the UConn campus that is ideal for any business gathering. Chief among UConn's dynamic academic facilities is the Homer Babbidge Library, which contains more than two-and-a-half million volumes.

The Chronicle of Higher Education recently recognized the Babbidge Library as the top public research library in New England.

The new Biology/Physics Building on the Storrs campus is a prime example of many of the modern facilities that have recently been built at UConn.

UConn's Jorgensen Center for the Performing Arts showcases the region's most noteworthy dramatic events. It stages professional touring attractions that range from Broadway musicals to intimate cabarets.

The recently expanded William Benton Museum of Art is a gallery of 4,000 pieces, which features a rotation of intriguing exhibits. The artifacts on display in UConn's Museum of Natural History further enhance the University's cultural environment.

UConn students enjoy a variety of clubs and leisure activities on the Storrs campus, which will only be enhanced when the current construction and renovation of the Student Union is complete.

A REMARKABLE TRANSFORMATION

UConn is renewing, rebuilding and enhancing its campuses through an unprecedented $2.3 billion, 20-year state investment in the University's infrastructure. UCONN 2000/21st Century UConn is the most ambitious publicly financed university building program in the country. It's an initiative the New York Times reports as being "a building boom that would be the envy of most university presidents." The UCONN 2000/21st Century UConn program reflects a vision of a dynamic institution. Now in its 10th year, the program has invigorated the University's living and learning environment, helped advance faculty research and stimulated public and private investment.

This transformation revitalizes the state's future by providing the means for the University to attract high achieving students, high quality faculty and funding from both grants and private donors. Before the landmark program, Connecticut was a state with one of the highest ratios of students leaving the state for college. Today, there has been a dramatic reversal of this trend leading to unprecedented interest from both in-state and out-of-state students.

The 21st Century UConn initiative was signed into law during ceremonies held at South Campus on August 26, 2002. The $2.3 billion building program to continue the remarkable transformation of the University of Connecticut was approved two weeks earlier by the General Assembly.

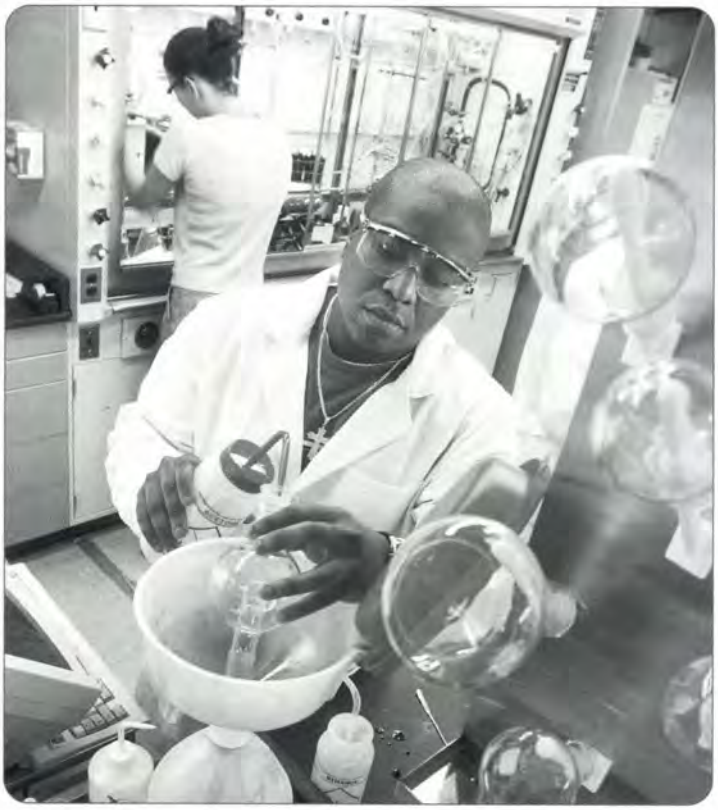
A new Chemistry Building was one of the first projects completed in the UCONN 2000 project.

The infrastructure initiative has already resulted in the completion of more than 100 projects, including the Chemistry Building—one of the best-designed buildings in the world according to the International Architecture Yearbook. Other projects include the School of Business, the modern Biology/Physics Building, Information Technologies Engineering Building, the Agricultural Biotechnology Laboratory and the construction of residence communities such as the Hilltop Apartments, Charter Oak Apartments, Hilltop Suites, South Campus and Husky Village. Renovations to numerous facilities, including the Babbidge Library, Wilbur Cross Building and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences have also been instrumental in transforming the University.

Forthcoming projects to be made possible by UCONN 2000/21st Century UConn include a $300 million expansion to the UConn Health Center that will include a state-of-the art medical research facility with 30 high-tech laboratories. The Storrs campus will benefit from enhancements that include new facilities to replace the Monteith and Arjona liberal arts facilities and the Torrey Life Sciences Building. Additions to the Benton Museum, Psychology Building, Storrs Hall and the School of Fine Arts will also continue to reshape the University. The quality of a UConn education will improve throughout the state with renovations to the UConn Law School and the regional campuses as well.

Thanks in large part to these forward thinking initiatives, the University is enjoying remarkable success in student recruitment and retention, attracting world-class scholars and securing significant research funding. The cranes that fill the skyline over UConn's campuses are indicative of a truly remarkable success story in American public higher education and suggest there are still great things ahead as the University ascends into the top ranks of public higher education in the nation.

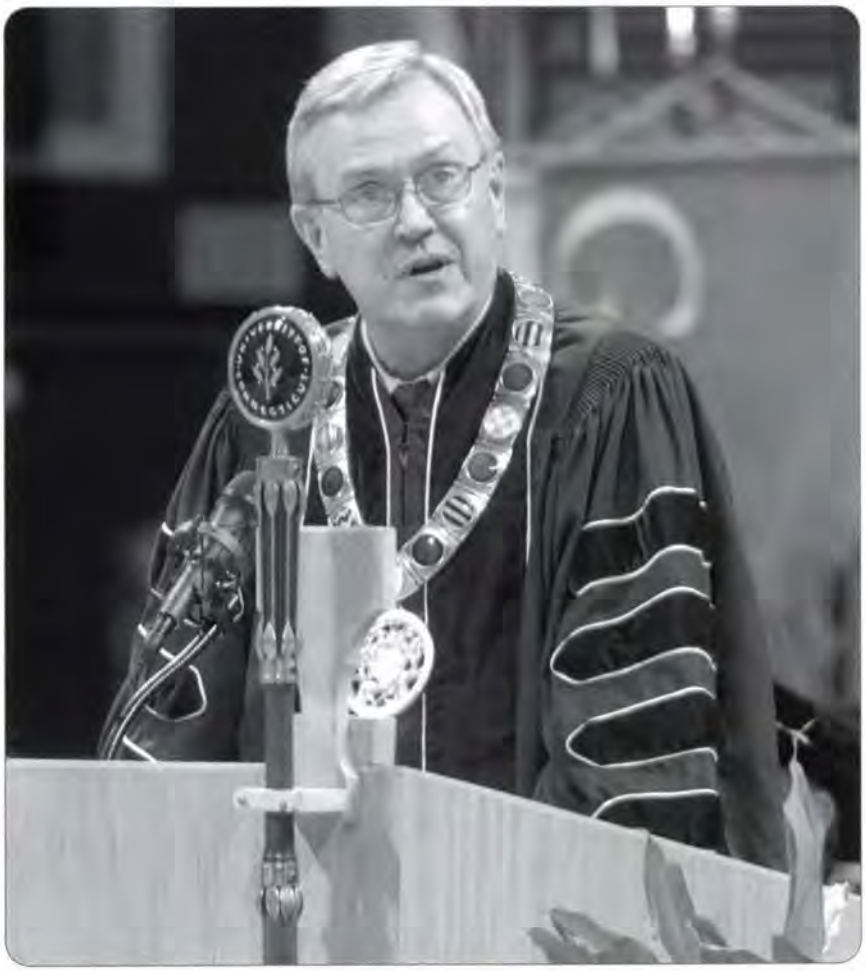
The new Hilltop Apartments at UConn offers students modern living conditions in a campus environment.



Modern classrooms and laboratories help make the educational experience at UConn among the finest in the country.

The new UConn Co-Op offers the University community a first-rate bookstore, café, convenience store and general shopping.

PRESIDENT PHILIP E. AUSTIN



University of Connecticut President Philip E. Austin has led the school through a period of unprecedented academic and physical growth. Dr. Austin became the thirteenth President of the University of Connecticut at the beginning of the academic year in the fall of 1996.

As chief executive of the University, Dr. Austin has overseen the management and implementation of a $2.8 billion infrastructure renewal and improvement program, including the $1 billion UCONN 2000 program approved by the State of Connecticut in 1995, the $1.3 billion 21st Century UConn program signed into law in 2002 and extending through 2015 and additional funding from other public and private sources.

Dr. Austin's commitment to academic excellence has led to increases in student quality and diversity as UConn has become the school of choice for high achieving students. Since 1995, the freshman class in Storrs has grown from just over 2,000 students to nearly 3,200, a 59% increase. At the same time, minority freshman enrollment is up 74%, average SAT scores for incoming freshmen have risen 54 points since 1996 and nearly 500 valedictorians and salutatorians have enrolled at UConn. The University's Board of Trustees' enrollment goal of 25,000 by fall 2005 was reached in the fall of '02, three years ahead of schedule. Since 1999, U.S. News and World Report has ranked UConn the top public university in New England and now among the top 25 in the nation.

"Campaign UConn", the University's six-year capital campaign launched by President Austin exceeded its $300 million fundraising goal when it concluded in June of 2004. Personal financial contributions of historic proportions coupled with record numbers of individual gifts are propelling UConn's most successful fundraising campaign.

A strong advocate for achievement in the classroom and laboratory as well as the playing field, Dr. Austin has celebrated numerous athletic championships as well as the individual accomplishments of hundreds of student-athletes at UConn. He played a vital role in the passage of legislation that led to the construction of Rentschler Field that became the home for University of Connecticut football in the fall of 2003. The UConn Club honored him with its Crystal Award in the spring of 2003.

He recently began a term on the NCAA Division I Board of Directors that runs through April 2007.

Prior to his appointment at UConn, Dr. Austin was chancellor of the University of Alabama System, president of Colorado State University, chancellor of the Colorado State University System, provost and vice president for academic affairs and professor of economics and finance at Bernard Baruch College in New York City. He was previously director of the interdisciplinary doctoral program in public policy at George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

From 1974 to 1977, Dr. Austin was HEW Deputy Assistant Secretary for Education in Washington, D.C. During the latter part of this assignment, he also served as Acting Assistant Secretary for Education. He served as an Economist in the Director's Office of the U.S. Office of Management and Budget from 1971 to 1974.

Dr. Austin's service in the United States Army extended from 1969-1971. He was an Economist with the rank of Army Captain in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Economic Affairs at U. S. Military Headquarters in Saigon, Vietnam. He was awarded the Bronze Star, the Joint Service Commendation Medal, and the Army Commendation Medal during his military duty.

He holds a Ph.D. in economics from Michigan State University and is active in several national professional associations. He serves on the Board of Directors of the MetroHartford Regional Economic Alliance, Connecticut United for Research Excellence, Inc. (CURE), the Greater Hartford Area Millenium Management Board of Directors and on the Governor's Council on Economic Competitiveness and Technology.

TOP-10 REASONS TO ATTEND UCONN

1. RANKED THE TOP PUBLIC UNIVERSITY IN NEW ENGLAND

For the sixth consecutive year, U.S. News and World Report ranked UConn the top public university in New England and among the very best public universities in the nation.

And the 2004 Fiske Guide to Colleges called UConn, "a comprehensive university offering a vast selection of academic programs as well as opportunities to study abroad, participate in research, or join one of the more than 300 organizations or clubs available." Bolstered by this national recognition and academic prestige, the value of a UConn degree continues to soar upward.

2. 21ST CENTURY AMENITIES

This is a tremendously exciting time to attend UConn. A $2.3 billion landmark building program is dramatically transforming the places where students live, learn and enjoy life. Through new construction and renovation, we offer the latest innovations nationally in university housing and dining and the best-equipped recreational complexes. Classrooms and laboratories are being built at a remarkable rate, placing our facilities at the forefront of public higher education and propelling UConn to a position of national prominence.

3. THE RIGHT FIT

Our student/faculty ratio is 19:1, and our 15,000 undergraduate students receive personal attention and feel a strong sense of community and belonging in classes that average 35 students. Just the right size, UConn also offers the opportunities of a premier research university, such as hands-on experience working in labs with professors who not only teach our courses, but who also are on the cutting edge of innovation and discovery.

4. OUTSTANDING FACULTY

From writers and scientists to human rights activists and historians, our nearly 1,100 faculty members are committed to classroom teaching. Fostering a dynamic learning environment, they share research opportunities with high achieving students in the Honors Program and serve as advisors to all undergraduates. It is professors like Regina Barreca, whose humor appears in nationally published columns, and Ben Bahr, whose revolutionary research may unlock the mysteries of Alzheimer's disease and Amii Omara-Otunnu, who provides pivotal leadership for the UConn-African National Congress Partnership, that inspire the minds of emerging scholars.

5. UNLIMITED OPPORTUNITIES FOR INVOLVEMENT

Yoga. UConnTV. Fraternities and Sororities. Student Film Organization. Marching Band. Finance Society. Puppet Club. Skydiving. Dance Team. Community Outreach. Choosing from more than 300 clubs and volunteer organizations, UConn students actively participate in campus and community life. As leaders of these diverse organizations, our students make governing decisions, plan events, organize intramural teams and run their own radio shows.

6. MOST OF OUR STUDENTS LIVE ON CAMPUS IN STORRS

UConn has the highest percentage of students living on campus of any public university in the United States. Residential life at UConn offers a distinct sense of community, as well as many social and cultural opportunities. We offer new students a range of dining options and accommodations, while offering continuing students the latest in suite-style and apartment living. Residence halls also have study rooms, 24-hour computer labs and lounge areas to help students relax and feel at home.

7. MORE THAN 100 MAJORS AVAILABLE

Choices abound. Whether it's education, engineering, English or environmental science, UConn's academic breadth encompasses numerous educational choices. Students select an established major or design an individualized plan of study to meet their specific needs. In addition to academic advisors, online study tools and tutorial centers, UConn offers career counseling workshops, study abroad programs in more than 25 countries and many internship programs that offer valuable experience. The University of Connecticut is diverse enough to offer many academic choices, but remains committed to providing students with the support needed to help them achieve their goals.

8. AN EXCEPTIONAL EDUCATIONAL VALUE

Whether an individual's long-range goal is to prepare for a career, pursue a graduate degree or attend medical or law school, UConn is an exceptional educational value. UConn has a variety of programs to help many students financially, ranging from merit scholarship opportunities to need-based financial aid packages, all designed to support a large number of qualified students. The University also has many part-time campus jobs with flexible hours that help students earn extra spending money or build their resume with hands-on work experience.

9. LOCATION, LOCATION, LOCATION

Our vibrant main campus in Storrs is about 30 minutes away from Hartford, Connecticut's capital city. Our unique regional campuses are strategically placed across the state at Avery Point, Stamford, Torrington Waterbury and West Hartford. Throughout Connecticut, UConn offers a quality education to meet our student body's distinct needs. Assessable education is paramount.

10. HUSKYMANIA

Division I in all sports, we have a variety of men's and women's varsity athletics, including baseball, basketball, field hockey, football, golf, ice hockey, lacrosse, rowing, softball, soccer, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and volleyball. Our students are all-star players and Husky fans. UConn is the home of Huskymania capturing seven NCAA national championships in the last six years, including unprecedented dual men's and women's basketball championships-the first University to do so in NCAA Division I history. Capping a 31-4 season, the 2003-04 women's basketball team won their fifth Division I crown. The 2003-04 men's basketball team won their second Division I crown with a 33-6 season. This UConn standard of athletic excellence carries on to the gridiron as the University's football team builds a winning tradition before 40,000 roaring fans at the ultra-modern Rentschler Field.

STATE OF CONNECTICUT

Within its compact borders, Connecticut has forested hills, new urban skylines, shoreline beaches, white-steeple colonial churches, and historic village greens. There are classic universities, modern expressways, great corporate offices and small farms.

Connecticut is a thriving center of business, as well as a vacation land. It is both a New England state and suburban to New York City.

Today's Connecticut is more exciting and more impressive than ever. Venture capitalists invested a record $1.8 billion in Connecticut companies in 2000 — more than double the previous year. Connecticut ranks third nationally in percentage of residents with college degrees and the state is ranked fifth in the nation in share of employment in information technology industries. Connecticut's manufacturing workforce ranks second in the nation in productivity and independent studies ranked Connecticut among the top five states in ability to excel in the new economy.

Connecticut is ranked third in percentage of postal zones with high-speed internet access and is among the top-10 states in the percentage of workers and businesses in the high-tech industries.

Included among the residents of Connecticut are 90,000 alumni of the University of Connecticut, most of whom are part of the ever-growing "Huskymania" fever which has swept through the state in recent years. Indeed, many state residents believe that UConn, and its athletic success, is perhaps one of Connecticut's greatest natural resources.

The Connecticut Yankee has long been a symbol of ingenuity and inventiveness. These qualities have been matched by production skills since the earliest days. From colonial times, Connecticut has been predominantly a manufacturing state and a world leader in industrial development.

When Connecticut was still a colony, its factories were already important enough to draw angry complaints from competitors in England. Connecticut metal buttons were replacing the imported product and this provided the start of Connecticut's great brass industry.

Connecticut is often described as the "Arsenal of the Nation." It gained this reputation as early as the American Revolution. Early in the 19th century, Eli Whitney and Simeon North began making Connecticut firearms with interchangeable parts. This is generally recognized as the beginning of modern mass production.

Through the years, Connecticut industrial genius has given the world such varied inventions as vulcanized rubber, friction matches, sewing machines, steamboats, safety fuses, lollipops, cork screws, mechanical calculators, cylindrical locks and the submarine.

Today, Connecticut's manufacturing industry continues to be highly diversified. Jet aircraft engines, helicopters and nuclear submarines have given the state pre-eminence in the production of transportation equipment. Connecticut also is a leader in such highly skilled and technical fields as metalworking, electronics and plastics. This sort of creativity has made a significant contribution to Connecticut's standard of life — its living qualities. For more than 50 years, these qualities have been judged to be the nation's finest. In turn, they are largely responsible for the influx of major corporate offices. Connecticut is now the home of such world-wide organizations as Xerox, General Electric, Uniroyal, GTE, Olin, Champion International and Union Carbide.

Among its better-known corporate industries, however, are its insurance companies. Connecticut began to earn its reputation as the Insurance State more than 180 years ago. Marine insurance, the great grandfather of all modern forms of insurance, had its start in Connecticut with coverage for ships and cargoes which sailed from the state's ocean and river ports to the Caribbean. Fire insurance got its formal start in 1794, while other types — life, accident, casualty, health — followed over the next century. There are 106 insurance companies based in Connecticut.

While agriculture no longer holds its once-prominent position in Connecticut's economy, farming is still important to the state. The most important crops are, forest and nursery, tobacco, vegetables and fruit, as well as dairy and poultry.

STATE OF CONNECTICUT

Connecticut is New England's second-smallest and southernmost state. Its 5,009 square miles (13,023 square kilometers) are bordered by New York State on the west, Rhode Island on the east, Massachusetts on the north and by Long Island sound on the south.

The southerly flow of the Connecticut River divides the state roughly in half. The coastal plain and central valley are relatively flat; they contain most of the larger cities. Other parts of the state are hilly, with the highest altitudes in the northwest corner. Hills are largely covered with hardwood forests, and about two-thirds of the state is in open land.

Despite New England's reputation for a rugged climate, Connecticut's weather is relatively mild. On the average, there are only 12 days a year when the temperature goes above 90 degrees, and about six days when it falls to zero or below. The growing season is fairly long, with the first killing frost generally in mid-October and the last in mid-April. This, together with moderate rainfall, provides good growing conditions. Despite Connecticut's small size, there is some variety in climate, with temperatures in the northern hills as much as 10 degrees lower than those in the central valley year-round.

Tourism (www.tourism.state.ct.us) in Connecticut is a $4 billion-a-year business. Much of it based on the attraction of the state's 250-mile Long Island Sound shoreline, its rolling Litchfield Hills, and its unspoiled Connecticut River Valley.

With its wealth of open land, Connecticut's scenery is some of New England's most beautiful. Its scores of Colonial villages are filled with historic homes and landmarks. Dozens of golf courses are open to the public; boating, fishing and swimming opportunities are everywhere.

Among the most popular individual attractions are Mystic Seaport and nearby Mystic Marinelife Aquarium; Lake Compounce, Bristol; Nautilus Memorial, Groton; Gillette Castle, Hadlyme; Valley Railroad, Essex; New-Gate Prison, East Granby; Branford Trolley Museum, East Haven; Connecticut river cruise ships; and the homes of Mark Twain and Harriet Beecher Stowe, Hartford.

Connecticut also offers a wealth of cultural attractions, theater, opera, ballet, concerts, and a number of nationally ranked museums and art galleries.

While Connecticut was first explored by the Dutch, who founded trading posts, the first permanent settlements were made by English Puritans from Massachusetts, starting in 1633.

From the first, Connecticut enjoyed a great measure of political independence, proclaiming in its Fundamental Orders of 1639 a democratic principle of government based on the will of the people. These Fundamental Orders are said to have been the first written Constitution of a democratic government; that's why Connecticut today is nicknamed "The Constitution State."

Agriculture and trade were primary activities of 17th century colonists, but because of limited land Connecticut people quickly turned to manufacturing.

During the American Revolution, Connecticut gave freely of her blood and wealth. Her soldiers were on the battle line from Quebec to Carolina. It was General Israel Putnam at the battle of Bunker Hill who cried: "Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes!" Patriot-spy Nathan Hale, as he was about to be hanged by the British, said: "I regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."

To George Washington, Connecticut was "The Provision State" because of supplies contributed to his army by Gov. Jonathan Trumbull — the only Colonial governor, incidentally, to support the cause of America's independence from Great Britain.

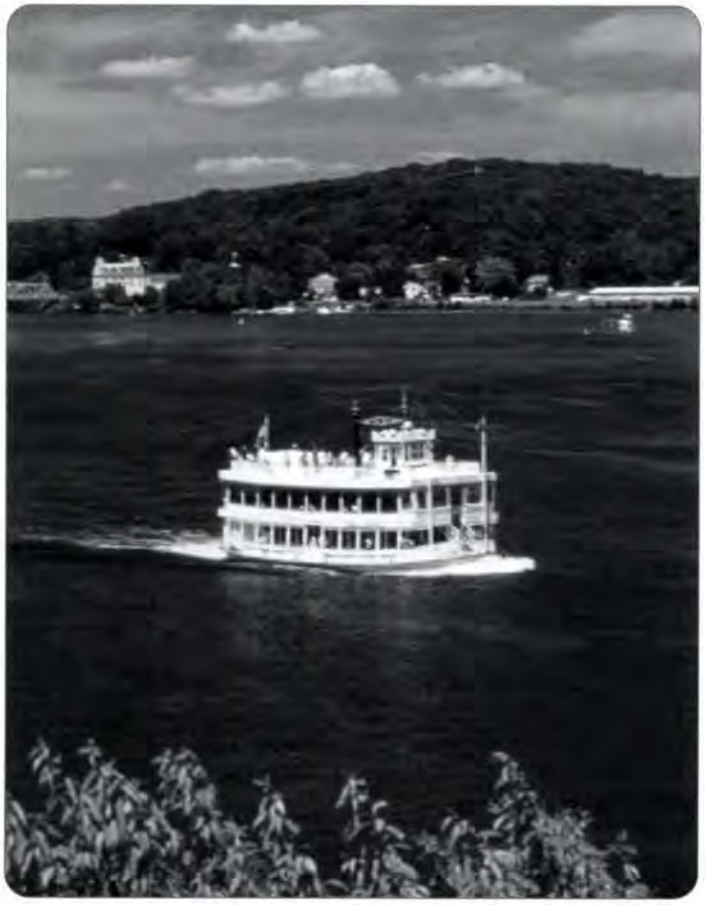
From 1703 to 1875, Connecticut had two capitals; sessions of the General Assembly met alternately in Hartford and New Haven. Since then, the capital has been Hartford.

State government in Connecticut has three branches: executive (exec.htm), legislative (www.cga.state.ct.us) and judicial (www.jud.state.ct.us).

Voters elect six state officers: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Comptroller and Attorney General. All have four year terms. Connecticut voters also elect two U.S. Senators and six U.S. Representatives.

The General Assembly or legislature has a Senate and a House of Representatives. Members of both houses represent districts based strictly on population. Currently, there are 36 state senators and 151 state representatives.

The Judicial Department is composed of the Superior, Appellate and Supreme courts. Except for probate judges, who are elected by the voters of the town or district they serve, all judges are nominated by the governor and appointed by the General Assembly.



THE "STATE" OF UCONN

Without question, the University of Connecticut is instrumental in the state's quality of life and economic growth.

The Connecticut Center for Economic Analysis documents that annually UConn generates nearly 38,000 jobs, leverages $800 million in private and federal investments and adds $3.1 billion to Connecticut's gross state product.

The University's contributions stretch beyond tangible figures. It conducts research and fosters knowledge; improves health care, education and the environment; hosts and supports exciting athletic, artistic and cultural events; and engages in community outreach and service.

Thanks to UConn, Connecticut continues to secure its place in the global marketplace. The contributions of the University are woven into the fabric of the Nutmeg state.

PROFESSIONAL WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

Human capital is Connecticut's principal natural resource and the state relies on the University of Connecticut to educate and train its highly skilled professional workforce. The University provides high quality education for a diverse student body, helping Connecticut to retain its brightest and most ambitious young minds, while drawing outstanding students from other regions who ultimately choose to become permanent residents of the state. Today, there are more than 90,000 UConn alumni who live and work in Connecticut.

UConn also serves as a key educational resource to businesses, government agencies and nonprofit organizations. It provides continuing learning programs to keep employees' knowledge and skills current, improve productivity and help businesses deliver better and more efficient services to their clients and customers.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE PARTNERSHIPS

The University maintains a wealth of partnerships with organizations and private corporations across the state. UConn's work with the Connecticut's public sector includes providing staff development services to state social service agencies and technical support to assist state and local agencies in finding solutions to critical environmental, infrastructure and social problems. Our partnerships with state and local government agencies provide opportunities for new financial support that extends public services. Within Connecticut's private sector, UConn helps support and enhance the competitiveness of state businesses, enabling them to expand existing operations, launch new initiatives, create jobs and expand the state's tax base.

RESEARCH

UConn has been designated as a Carnegie Foundation Research University-Extensive, a distinction shared by fewer than four percent of America's higher education institutions that are lauded for their breadth and range of research. The University has more than 70 focused research centers that explore subjects ranging from improving human health to enhancing public education and protecting our natural resources. Annual sponsored research grants and awards approached about $200 million in 2003. Faculty research at UConn provides direct benefits to the Connecticut economy in the form of job creation, new business development and subcontracting work with state businesses. In 2002, this contribution was valued at approximately $50 million.

QUALITY OF LIFE

UConn's contributions to the quality of life in Connecticut are far-reaching. They include enhancing public schools, improving the environment, extending access to diverse cultural activities and providing recreation and entertainment. The University's many contributions assist businesses in attracting talented and high-quality individuals who strengthen and expand our state's economic health. Last year, more than 200,000 people attended events, exhibitions and performances at UConn.

HUSKY PRIDE

The remarkable popularity of UConn Husky athletics has annually drawn more than 320,000 fans to Hartford for basketball games and nearly 225,000 people to East Hartford for Division I-A football. "Huskymania" is the singular and unifying source of pride for Connecticut residents as well as an economic force within the state. Major corporations affiliate themselves with the University through their sponsorship of UConn athletics and Connecticut-based vendors produce UConn branded items that are sold in retail outlets throughout the state. These retail sales generate income for business and state sales tax revenues.

In 2004, Connecticut's place in college sports history was redefined with UConn's unprecedented dual men's and women's basketball championships—the first such achievement in NCAA Division I history. The great success of UConn's athletic teams is celebrated not only by the University, but also by the citizens of Connecticut who herald their achievements in sports and academics.

CITY OF HARTFORD AND THE GREATER HARTFORD AREA

It has long been known as the "Insurance Capital of the World" and it serves as a daily busy hub for some of the most dynamic corporations in the nation. It also serves as the home for UConn football at Rentschler Field and a home-away-from-home for the UConn men's and women's basketball teams at the Hartford Civic Center.

The City of Hartford and the Greater Hartford region is known worldwide for its innovative, high technology industries as well as for its leadership in the insurance industry. Hartford currently sports a strong foothold in the international marketplace and is broadening that foothold in order to ensure the region's economic growth well into the 21st century.

With scores of international companies like Aetna, United Technologies, The Hartford, Gerber Scientific and ESPN headquartered here and boasting one of the nation's most educated and productive workforces, Hartford is an ideal place to work and to build a business.

The region ranks: #1 in gross domestic product per capita and #2 in labor productivity in the world; #3 nationally in both readiness for the knowledge-based New Economy and for highest number of patents held; #5 in attracting venture capital; #17 in the top 40 real estate markets for business expansion; and is the 12th most wired city and rank in the top 60 cyber cities for high bandwidth.

The Hartford region offers access to 100 million consumers within an 8-hour drive. That's access to 32% of U.S. retail sales and 33% of all manufacturing establishments.

For generations, the title of "Insurance Capital of the World" has been part of the background of Hartford, and for good reason. Insurance got its start in the Hartford area in the late 1700's when trade merchants needed to cover the risks of piracy and ocean storms. Among the prominent insurance executives of the 1800s were James G. Batterson, who founded The Travelers Co., and Morgan G. Bulkeley, a president of Aetna Life and Casualty.

Today, seven insurance giants have their corporate headquarters in the Greater Hartford area: Aetna Life and Casualty, St. Paul Travelers, Connecticut Home Life Insurance Company, ITT/Hartford Insurance Group, CIGNA Corporation, Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, and Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company. The major accounting firms are also represented in the region.

With its insurance companies and its numerous banks serving as a core of economic success, the City of Hartford is the fifth largest financial center in the entire country.

Hartford is in the midst of a major revitalization, which includes the Adriaen's Landing riverfront development, the largest convention center between New York City and Boston with shops, restaurants and residences.

With a number of insurance companies calling Hartford its home, the city has traditionally been referred to as the "Insurance Capital of the World."

CITY OF HARTFORD AND THE GREATER HARTFORD AREA

Serving as Connecticut's state capital, the City of Hartford is located in central Connecticut. The Connecticut River borders the City of Hartford to the east, and Hartford's 18 square mile area rests entirely within the river valley. Terrain is gently rolling with extensive level areas and elevations range from near sea level to 190 feet above.

The artistic wealth and diversity of Hartford is portrayed in many ways—from its base as a home of an art museum of major significance (the Athenaeum), to a nationally recognized theater company (the Tony Award-winning Hartford Stage Company), to first-rate symphony, ballet and opera companies (respectively, the Hartford Symphony, the Hartford Ballet and the Connecticut Opera).

The region has a strong historical relationship with literature. Perhaps its best known author-in-residence was Mark Twain, who wrote several of his most famous works here, including Huckleberry Finn. Twain's Hartford mansion, along with that of his neighbor Harriet Beecher Stowe, are open to the public.

The City of Hartford honored the national champion UConn men's and women's basketball teams with a parade that attracted approximately 350,000 people.

A new convention center is currently being built in Hartford and when completed, it will be the largest between New York City and Boston.

One of the hubs of downtown activity in Hartford is the Civic Center, which is also the home facility for the Hartford Wolfpack of the American Hockey League.

Each year, the finest golfers in the world compete at the PGA Tour's Buick Challenge, which is played at Cromwell's Tournament Players Club at River Highlands.

The greater Hartford landscape gained a major addition in 2003 when UConn football moved into its new $90 million stadium — Rentschler Field in East Hartford. The 40,000-seat open air stadium provides the state of Connecticut with a state-of-the-art facility in which the UConn Football program will compete at the major college level as a member of the BIG EAST Conference.

CLOSE TO STORRS

In addition to all that the city of Hartford and the state of Connecticut has to offer, the region within two hours of Storrs is ripe with cultural and entertainment possibilities.

SPRINGFIELD (47 miles)

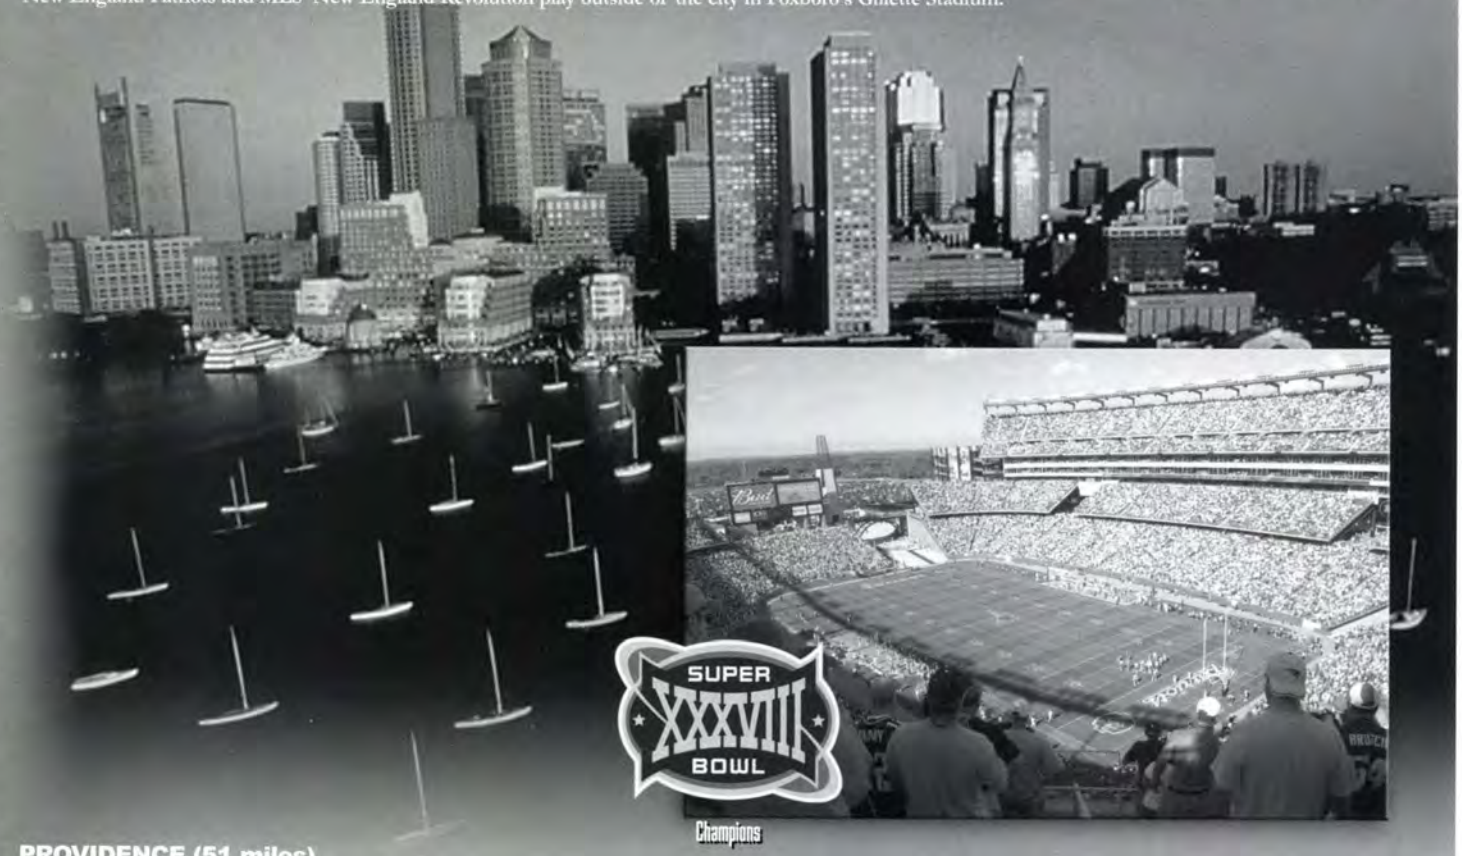
The Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame is located less than an hour from Storrs in Springfield, Mass., just minutes from the YMCA where Dr. James Naismith invented the game in 1891. A must-see for any fan of the hardwood, the Hall of Fame reopened in the fall of 2002 in a brand new $45 million home just off of Interstate 91 in Springfield. The pinnacle of any basketball career, the hall's long list of inductees includes everyone from Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to John Wooden, while memorabilia from UConn's National Championship teams is also on display. Once you finish your tour of the Hall of Fame, Springfield's neighboring suburb of Agawam is the home of Six Flags New England, the region's largest amusement park.

NEW YORK CITY (142 miles)

The United States' largest city and "the media capital of the world," New York City is located approximately two hours from Storrs and offers a wide array of cultural opportunities. From the glitter of Times Square, to the vast expanse of Central Park, to the majestic skyline, New York City is an incomparable destination and one that can be easily reached by the Metro-North train lines that run into southern Connecticut. UConn students also enjoy the city's active sporting landscape. The BIG EAST Conference men's basketball tournament, played every March at fabled Madison Square Garden, is one of the country's premier collegiate conference championship events. The New York metro area also boasts 10 major professional sports franchises, including the NFL's New York Jets and Giants, Major League Baseball's New York Mets and Yankees, the NBA's New York Knicks and New Jersey Nets, the NHL's New York Islanders, New York Rangers and 2003 Stanley Cup Champion New Jersey Devils and the WNBA's New York Liberty.

BOSTON (86 miles)

The birthplace of the American Revolution, Boston's historic Freedom Trail is a living history textbook, covering everything from the Battle of Bunker Hill to the midnight ride of Paul Revere. Meanwhile, the city blends its old world charm with a cosmopolitan new world attitude that is evidenced by some of the trendier shops and restaurants that line both historic Faneuil Hall Marketplace and the Back Bay's Newbury Street. One of the world's foremost centers of education, Boston is home to over 50 colleges and universities; perhaps the entire world's most concentrated collection of colleges. The greater Boston area also includes the summer beach resorts on Cape Cod and the islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard. A hub of sporting activity, the Boston Red Sox have called fabled Fenway Park home since 1912. The NBA's Boston Celtics and NHL's Boston Bruins also call Beantown home while the 2002 and 2004 Super Bowl Champion New England Patriots and MLS' New England Revolution play outside of the city in Foxboro's Gillette Stadium.



PROVIDENCE (51 miles)

Rhode Island's capital city shows that one of the nation's smallest states also has plenty to offer its visitors. The multi-cultural capital city, which dates back to 1636, is the Ocean State's centerpiece. The best known hamlet on the Rhode Island shore, the ocean town of Newport is world famous for its mansions and is a popular vacation destination for those seeking aquatic activities. Newport's renowned music festival also is a well-attended annual event.

MANSFIELD DOWNTOWN PARTNERSHIP

The Mansfield Downtown Partnership, Inc., was created in 2001 as an independent, non-profit organization charged with coordinating the enhancement and revitalization of three of Mansfield's commercial areas – Storrs Center, King Hill Road and the Four Corners. As a public-private partnership, the organization is composed of representatives from the community, businesses, town government and the University of Connecticut.

As part of the American Downtown Program sponsored by the National League of Cities, the Mansfield Town Council retained the national planning firm of HyettPalma in 1999 to develop an enhanced strategy for the revitalization of downtown Mansfield's commercial areas. Following a collaborative process, HyettPalma produced the Mansfield Downtown Partnership Action Agenda, which details a series of findings and recommendations.

Those recommendations were: develop a community green space, improve traffic flow and parking, increase business retention and attraction, encourage real estate development and enhancement, expand marketing and promotion and add public improvements, such as streetscape design.

One of the Partnership's first tasks was to commission the development of a concept Master Plan for Storrs Center to create a sense of identity, cohesion and ambiance. Milone & MacBroom, Inc. consultants worked with the Partnership to create the concept Master Plan. The concept Master Plan was presented in several public forums and was revised through the public process. The concept Master Plan was completed in summer 2002 and can be found on the Partnership's website at www.mansfieldct.org.

The concept Master Plan includes three main elements: mixed-use development (retail/restaurant/office/housing), a town green and market-rate housing. Streetscape improvements are also a vital piece of future development.

Over the next few months, the Partnership will be working on the implementation of the Master Plan. On May 28, 2002, the Town of Mansfield authorized the Partnership to serve as its municipal development agency to undertake the development of the Storrs Center area on behalf of the Town. A project plan will be prepared to address the technical and legal description of the development to take place. Looney Ricks Kiss Architects, Inc., began work on the municipal development project plan in March 2003.

In June 2004, the Partnership identified LeylandAlliance LLC from Tuxedo, N.Y., to serve as its master developer for the project. LeylandAlliance will be working with the Partnership and Looney Ricks Kiss on the final planning documents to be completed by the end of 2004.

Congressman Rob Simmons of Connecticut's Second District speaks at the presentation of the Rural Business Enterprise Grant to the Town of Mansfield and Mansfield Downtown Partnership in April of 2004. Joining him are Downtown Partnership vice president Betsy Treiber, former UConn Provost John Peterson, Mansfield Mayor Betsy Paterson and David Tuttle of the United States Department of Agriculture.

THE HOME OF CHAMPIONS

The University of Connecticut was the "Home of Champions" during the 2003-2004 academic year.

The most tangible evidence of this came on consecutive days in early April when UConn won NCAA Championships in both men's and women's basketball – becoming the first Division I school to win both titles in the same year.

The moniker "Home of Champions" goes far beyond basketball — and athletics for that matter. UConn student-athletes are champions on the playing fields and courts, as well as in the classrooms and in the community.

UConn teams advanced to NCAA Championship play in five different sports this past year as the men's and women's basketball teams won national championships, the women's soccer team played in the national final, the field hockey team advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals and the men's soccer team went to the second round of the NCAA tournament.

Individuals from UConn participated in the NCAA men's and women's indoor and outdoor track championships and the women's swimming championship.

UConn has now won an NCAA Championship in each of the past six academic years dating back to 1998-99: 1999 men's basketball, 2000 women's basketball, 2000 men's soccer, 2002 women's basketball, 2003 women's basketball and 2004 men's and women's basketball.

The 2003-2004 year was also highlighted with the opening of Rentschler Field, the country's newest and most modern college football stadium. UConn posted a record of 5-1 in its new home and had an overall record of 9-3.

Husky teams were successful on the BIG EAST level as the women's basketball, field hockey and women's soccer teams all won BIG EAST regular season titles. The men's basketball team won the BIG EAST tournament and the men's indoor track and field team won the BIG EAST Championship.

The men's track and field team won the indoor New England Championship for the 11th-straight year while the women's indoor team won it for the third time in the past four years.

A total of 10 Husky student-athletes won All-America honors this past year: Maureen Butler in field hockey, Kristen Graczyk in women's soccer, Lauren Henderson in field hockey, Logan Jones in men's indoor track and field, Joel Legare in men's outdoor track and field, Mary Jo Malone in field hockey, Deirdre Mullen in both indoor and outdoor women's track and field, Emeka Okafor in men's basketball, Diana Taurasi in women's basketball and Will Thomas in men's indoor track and field.

UConn produced a pair of Academic All-Americans in Okafor, who was also selected as the Academic All-American of the Year for men's basketball, and football's Shaun Feldeisen, who earned second team honors.

Both Okafor and Taurasi were honored as the national player of the year in their respective sports.

Field hockey head coach Nancy Stevens was honored as the BIG EAST Conference and regional coach of the year while men's track and field coach Greg Roy and his assistants were honored as the BIG EAST indoor staff of the year.

Here is an alphabetical sport-by-sport recap of the 2003-2004 academic year for UConn athletics.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS JEFFREY A. HATHAWAY

Jeff Hathaway was named the Director of Athletics at the University of Connecticut on June 10, 2003.

Jeffrey A. Hathaway was named the new Director of Athletics at the University of Connecticut on June 10, 2003, but he was far from a stranger on the Storrs campus.

Hathaway was the Executive Associate Director of Athletics at UConn from 1990-2001 before serving as the Director of Athletics at Colorado State University for two years.

In his first year as UConn's athletic director, the men's and women's basketball teams both won the national championship while the women's soccer team advanced to the NCAA final. In addition, the field hockey and men's soccer teams also took part in NCAA tournament action and individuals from five other sports also advanced to NCAA competition. A total of 10 Husky student-athletes were named All-Americans in 2003-04 and two earned Academic All-America honors.

UConn also opened Rentschler Field in 2003 – the country's newest and most modern college football facility. The Huskies posted a 9-3 record in 2003 and ended the year with five-straight wins.

Hathaway's first year also saw the UConn Division of Athletics raise a total of nearly $14 million. In addition, UConn secured a gift of $2.5 million from UConn graduate Mark Shenkman for the building of The Mark R. Shenkman Training Center, an intercollegiate, intramural and recreational facility that will serve the entire UConn community.

During Hathaway's career, he has always made the student-athlete the top priority. In the 2003 spring and fall semesters, nearly 40 percent of UConn's 650 student-athletes earned a 3.0 grade point average or better – including 14 that had a perfect 4.0. In addition, the Division of Athletics has consistently maintained a 99 percent retention rate among its student-athletes.

"My focus is on the student-athlete," says Hathaway. "That's the most important part of our program. Our primary mission is the continued academic success of our student-athletes. The challenge is to identify people early in the process and assist them in charting a career path. In addition, we want to provide a quality experience in intercollegiate athletics for our student-athletes."

Jeff Hathaway is joined by (left to right) UConn football coach Randy Edsall, women's basketball coach Geno Auriemma, President Philip Austin and men's basketball coach Jim Calhoun.

Hathaway originally came to Connecticut in November of 1990 as Senior Associate Athletic Director. In that role, he oversaw the day-to-day operations of the Division of Athletics.

He also served internally as a program administrator for several sports, including men's and women's basketball and men's and women's soccer at UConn as the Huskies won four national championships in those sports during his tenure – two in women's basketball (1995 and 2000) and one each in men's basketball (1999) and men's soccer (2000).

Hathaway was the program administrator for football and he played a key role in the upgrade of UConn's football program to Division I-A status and the building of Rentschler Field.

During Hathaway's tenure at Colorado State, he oversaw a 15-sport program – nine women's teams and six men's.

The Ram football team made a pair of bowl appearances while Hathaway was at CSU. The men's basketball team won the Mountain West Conference tournament in March of '03 and advanced to the NCAA tournament for the first time in 13 years. The women's basketball team advanced to postseason play twice, including a trip to the second round of the NCAA tournament in 2002 and the semifinals of the 2003 Women's NIT. A total of four Ram teams won Mountain West championships during 2002-03 and seven took part in postseason play.

Hathaway was an extremely successful fundraiser during his time in Fort Collins. The school drew national attention last spring for a $15.2 million gift from the Bohemian Foundation and president Pat Stryker for football stadium renovations and expansion.

Hathaway represented the Mountain West Conference on the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet, as well as the Football Certification Subcommittee, which is responsible for issues involving postseason football competition and the certification of bowl games. He continues to serve on that same NCAA committee and subcommittee as a representative for the BIG EAST.

Prior to his first stint at UConn, Hathaway served in a number of capacities at his alma mater – the University of Maryland – from 1982-90, including Assistant Athletics Director for Marketing and Promotions, Acting Assistant Athletics Director for Business Affairs, Athletics Business Manager and men's basketball trainer.

Hathaway earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Athletic Administration from the University of Maryland in 1981. He later received a Master's Degree in General Administration (1991) from the University of Maryland and is currently continuing work on a PhD in Educational Leadership from the University of Connecticut.

He attended The Sports Management Institute at the Universities of Notre Dame and Southern California. Hathaway also completed the Management Development Program at Harvard University.

Born June 20, 1959, in Cheverly, Md., Hathaway and his wife Paula have two children: Meghan (October 15, 1991) and Michael (June 11, 1995).
